CANADA'S M.P.'S BRING SESSION TO END

Plebiscite On Sweepstakes Proposed

Vancouver People May State Views On Scheme For Charity

Finance Committee Recommends to City Council Plebiscite Be Held at Election Next December

FEDERAL APPROVAL WOULD BE NEEDED

Discussion in Terminal City Is Result of Request Sent Across Canada By Sweepstake Petition Association of Toronto

Canadian Press

Vancouver, May 26.—The civic finance committee will recommend to the Vancouver council that a plebiscite on the question of holding sweepstakes for charity be submitted to the ratepayers in December on the date of the civic elections. If the proposal receives endorsement, the federal government will be asked to give its authorization.

At a meeting of the finance committee meeting, aldermen, by a vote of five to two, approved Ald. H. J. de G. Graves' plebiscite proposal. The committee also recommended that the council be given an opportunity to ratify the plebiscite proposal. At that time three aldermen, who were absent when the vote was taken, will be present.

PROSPERITY AIM OF NEW PREMIER

Sydney, N.S., May 26.—Premier S. B. Stevens, head of the new Coalition Government of New South Wales, today said the keynote of the government's policy if returned in the June 11 election would be restoration of land workers' prosperity.

U.S. Senators Voted Luxury Sales Taxes

Washington, May 26.—Luxury sales taxes were restored to the $1,000,000 revenue bill to-day by the U.S. Senate finance committee in its search for funds to balance the budget.

The committee exempted soap and dentifrices from a 10 per cent tax on toilet preparations and cosmetics. It voted a 5 per cent sales tax on furs, to be paid by the dresser who prepares the article.

SAYS NEW LAW IS WORTHLESS

Saanich Trustee Denounces New School Tax as Unworkable

Trustees Consider School Fees as Alternative Source of Needed Revenue

New legislation giving municipalities greater taxation powers for school purposes was unworkable and could not be put into operation until it had been amended at the next session of the B.C. Legislature, Frank Partridge, Saanich school trustee, stated at a meeting of the board yesterday evening.

Discussion on the legislation sponsored by Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe was started when Trustee Frank V. Hobbs, chairman of the trustees, expressed disappointment the council had not imposed the new tax, which he declared would fall on those benefited by school services.

"If the council will not help us, after September 1 we must charge as high a fee as we can obtain, otherwise we must cut down our services," he remarked.

Trustee Frank Partridge said the new legislation was unworkable. "It gives nothing, either to school boards or to councils. The act must be greatly amended, and it will not be effective for some time after it is amended by the Legislature next year," he proclaimed.

Trustee Partridge secured consent to collection of information from other nearby municipalities as to their proposals in regard to fees.

The board was advised that, in the event of heavy fees being charged senior students, great reductions in enrolment would ensue and the schools would be overstaffed. He considered that, in fairness to the teachers, they should be notified of possibility of re-organization being undertaken to balance conditions.

MAY HEAD NEW RADIO BOARD

When Senator A. D. McRae in the second Chamber at Ottawa yesterday evening said a man in Great Britain was being mentioned in discussions and dispatches as probable chairman of the Radio Commission about to be formed in Canada, he referred to William Ewart Gladstone Murray of the British Broadcasting Corporation (above). Born at Maple Ridge, B.C., in 1892, he is a graduate of McGill University, Montreal, where he founded and edited The McGill Daily, the first undergraduate daily newspaper in Canada. He joined the reporting staff of The Montreal Herald, afterward free-lancing in New York and South America. As a Rhodes Scholar, he proceeded to New College, Oxford, in 1914. His studies were interrupted by the war, during which he served with the Highland Light Infantry, R.F.C., and R.A.F., completing 3,000 hours of war flying. In 1919 Mr. Murray entered the service of the British Broadcasting Corporation.

FIRES RAGE IN ONTARIO

One Hundred Men Rushed to Area Sixty Miles From Sudbury

North of Province Under Smoke Pall; Outbreaks Menace Townships

Sudbury, Ont., May 26.—With a fierce forest fire still out of control in Shear Township, sixty miles north of here, 100 men were rushed to the scene by rail and plane to reinforce the crew of fifty men who had been fighting the blaze since Tuesday.

Only meagre reports of the extent of the blaze had been received.

Fires reported yesterday in Dill, Neelwood, Dryden, Merritt, Scotia and McKim townships were practically out of control.

North Bay, Ont., May 26.—A dense pall of smoke hung over northern Ontario to-day as fire steadily moved through forests.

An outbreak in McNish and McBeth townships was racing over previously burned areas and hopes were entertained that it would be brought under control shortly. A sudden shift of wind to the north yesterday evening aided ninety fire fighters who had been combating the flames for many hours.

B.C. LOAN IS NOT ALL SOLD

Canadian Press
London, May 26.—Twenty per cent of British Columbia's £1,500,000 provincial loan issue was left with the underwriters to-day after the remainder had been sold.

The stocks, selling at 99 and redeemable in 1937 or 1947, at the discretion of the province, yielded 5 per cent.

Financial observers, considering the issue was left on the market only one day and at a time when the market was particularly depressed, said they considered "the result quite satisfactory."

FORBES IS TO ATTEND OTTAWA CONFERENCE

New Zealand Premier and Colleagues Expected to Pass Through Victoria on Way to Empire Event

Wellington, N.Z., May 26.—The government of New Zealand to-day announced Premier G. W. Forbes would lead this Dominion's delegation to the Imperial Economic Conference in Ottawa in July.

Rt. Hon. J. G. Coates, Minister of Public Works and Transport, and Hon. W. D. Stewart, Finance Minister, will be the other members of the delegation.

Five advisers will accompany the delegation. Dr. Jones will represent the most productive industry, W. Goodfellow the dairymen, H. E. Napier, fruit growers; Sir Francis Boys, the Farmers' Union; and another still to be named, the manufacturers.

It is expected Premier Forbes and the other members of the New Zealand delegation will pass through Victoria on their way to Ottawa.

Retaliatory Principle Brings Economic Ruin, Says T. D. Pattullo

Liberal Leader Comments on Proposals Advanced by Attorney-General

Proposals for retaliatory measures against the United States on account of proposed imposition by the United States of a tax on lumber and copper entering there from Canada were the subject of criticism by T. D. Pattullo, British Columbia Liberal Leader, this morning.

DOLLAR GAINS ON EXCHANGE

New York, May 26.—After early weakness, the Canadian dollar closed 1/2 cent higher on the local foreign exchange market to-day at 88 1/2 cents. The pound sterling, however, ended the day one cent lower at $2.68 1/2 for cable transfers.

Kaye Don's Boat Does 91.3 An Hour

Gardone, Italy, May 26.—Kaye Don, British speedboat driver, to-day failed in his attempt to break the world record, driving his Miss England III over the waters of Lake Gardone at a speed of only 91.3 miles an hour. Gar Wood's world mark is 111.712.

Confiscation of Seiner St. Patrick Sought Before Magistrate Here

Formal appearance before Magistrate George Jay in the Provincial Police Court was made this morning by H. W. R. Moore, applying on behalf of the Department of Fisheries for confiscation of the U.S. salmon seiner St. Patrick, seized August 30 three miles from Douglas Island.

The case was adjourned for one week.

Captain John Sumich was summoned to answer a charge of unlawfully fishing in territorial waters of Canada for which, it is claimed, the boat should be confiscated.

Stuart Henderson appears for the defence.

The St. Patrick was seized at a point described in the summons as a point three miles east of Discovery Island and about three-quarters of a mile west of the international boundary.

Pair Attempting Store Robbery Frightened Away By Customers

Vancouver, May 26.—Two men who attempted to hold up A. W. Wright in his store on Commercial Drive were frightened away yesterday evening by the approach of some customers. One of the men had his hand in his pocket as if carrying a revolver. They had entered the store and demanded the proprietor's money when they were interrupted. A quantity of tobacco was stolen from the Peter Pan Confectionery on West Broadway by shoplifters. A woman engaged the attention of the proprietor while a man "lifted" the goods, according to reports to police.

Mrs. R. Gordon, West Twenty-second Avenue, found a prowler in her home Wednesday. The man fled.

Dan Lowmyer, Webster Street, reported to police he was attacked and strangled by two men in the lane south of the Unit block of Hastings Street at 11:15 p.m. Wednesday. They robbed him of 60 cents.

A sum of $72 was stolen from a cash drawer in the office of the St. Regis Hotel on Dunsmuir Street.

Clothing and personal effects were stolen from the suite of G. Tall on Jarvis Street.

The home of Mrs. D. S. Wallbridge, Selkirk Street, was broken into, but nothing was taken.

FIEND SLAYS YOUNG GIRL

Cleveland Maniac Kills One and Wounds Two, Probably Fatally; Is Captured

Cleveland, May 25.—A knife-wielder who called himself "Mystery Jack" turned on a crowd of school children here today, stabbed one girl to death and perhaps fatally injured two more. He was captured a few moments later by Patrolman Charles Mischely on school traffic duty nearby, as hundreds of persons on their way to work gathered and threatened mobbing.

The man incoherently muttered that he "had a call to kill millions," and called on the patrolman to "kill me, I have not killed enough."

The slain girl was Rose Elaine Mackin, aged eight. Those critically injured are Lena de Sand, twelve, and Rose Marie Parker, eight. They were on their way to St. Cecilia School, near where the attack was made.

Police said the man had talked incoherently and boasted he was "Mystery Jack," with some illusion that he was a child killer. He told them he had been taken to anyone for a year and a half.

FRANCE AGAIN TO PAY DEBT

New Agreement With U.S. Provides For Resumption of Payments Shortly

Paris, May 26.—A debt agreement with the United States similar to that negotiated by Great Britain this week will be signed by France next week, providing for payment of its war debt annuities, it was learned by the Hoover memorandum, the Foreign Office announced today.

The Agence Economique et Financiere said the arrangement would provide for payment of the French annuity at 4 per cent over a period of ten years.

It was understood the arrangement made by France was the same that already reported negotiated by Great Britain.

At the United States Embassy it was stated all the negotiations were being carried on at Washington.

GAIN REPORTED IN EMPLOYMENT

Ottawa, May 26.—A betterment in employment in Canada on May 1 was reported in the monthly review issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics yesterday.

At the beginning of the month 7,882 firms, reporting to the bureau, had a total of 799,944 persons employed.

Construction, transportation and trade recorded the greatest improvement, while there were also gains in logging and services. There was seasonal curtailment in coal mining.

Manufacturing was quieter and high-way construction curtailed.

Heightened activity, said the review, was reported in Quebec, the prairie provinces and British Columbia, while the level of employment in the maritime provinces and Ontario was lower than on April 1.

In the cities, Quebec city and Ottawa showed improvement, but the tendency was downward in Toronto, Hamilton, Windsor and the adjacent border cities, Winnipeg and Vancouver, while Montreal firms, on the whole, indicated a decrease in employment.

Quebec firms, however, showed a gain in employment.

House Destroyed At Port Alberni

Special to The Times
Port Alberni, May 26.—Fire practically destroyed the residence of Capt. Frank Tyler on South Park Drive yesterday afternoon. The fire is supposed to have originated with a clothes line in the kitchen, where the fire department was promptly on the scene, but efforts failed to save the building.

WAR CLAIMS NOT SOUND

Cases of Ex-Prisoners Rejected Compensation Not Well Based, Says Cahane

Ottawa, May 26.—Younger members of the left fraternity who advise former prisoners of war whose claims for compensation have been refused by reparations commissioners and the pensions tribunals that they have the right of action against the government are not on sound ground, Hon. C. H. Cahane, Secretary of State, told the Commons today in a lengthy statement.

In the course of a lengthy statement, the minister called attention to the practice of those lawyers who were seeking authority from the government for the purpose of engaging in such legal action did so without any hope of securing a return, Mr. Cahane declared.

Interlarded with extracts from the provisions of the Versailles Treaty and from court decisions delivered in the past, the Secretary of State's address emphasized that to date Canada had paid out a total of $704,912,473 in the way of compensation to Canadian nationals who had suffered as a result of the Great War. That huge figure included war pensions and moneys distributed to civilians in the way of reparations.

Against that Canada had obtained from Germany only $26,672,246, or less than 4 per cent of what this country had paid out.

Mr. Cahane traced the various conferences resulting in the Dawes Plan and the Young Plan, whereby Germany had agreed to the terms of reparations annuities, and recalled that he had ceased her payments last year under the Young plan. Next month another conference would be held to reconsider the situation.

The report, however, had been spread throughout Canada appealing to ex-soldiers to make application to the reparations commissioners for compensation covering physical injuries and disabilities sustained while they were prisoners of war.

NO FUND IN EXISTENCE
Statements had been made that a fund existed in the Canadian treasury, received from Germany, from which such awards might be paid. The financial statement he had just outlined showed there was no such fund, Mr. Cahane said. Reparations were now appropriated by a vote of Parliament out of the consolidated revenue fund.

Ex-soldiers who suffered physical disabilities sustained in the war might apply—and in most cases had applied—to the pensions tribunals for no discrimination was made by the pensions commissioners as to whether service disabilities and those suffered from maltreatment while prisoners of war. If the compensation tribunals of the reparations commission awarded by the reparations commissioner.

From time to time awards had been limited in number.

While patrolling his beat in snow weather, Sgt. Brice became snowed out and both his feet were frozen. Peering through the snow he saw himself with an old knife, severing two toes on his right foot. When assistance reached him he was removed to Car-mack's, where several more toes on both feet were cut off.

Sgt. Brice was flown out from Liard River post to Carcross with an injured leg. He was taken to the R.C.M.P. in February. He came to Vancouver by boat and was removed to the hospital, where it was found necessary to amputate more of his toes.

Born in London, he joined the Mounted Police in Vancouver in 1919. His first post was at Prince Rupert, where he was stationed for seven years. He was at Prince George for a time, and later was transferred to Victoria. For several years he was stationed in the Okanagan district.

RELIEF MOVE AT HEARST, ONT.

Hearst, Ont., May 26.—All danger of rioting by unemployed here has passed it is believed. Receipt of authority to spend $500 on direct relief and prompt action by police to guard threatened stores is thought to have averted an outbreak by unemployed.

Recently a large body of foreigners entered town and camped in the neighbourhood of work was not immediately forthcoming they would raid stores and food depots. An appeal was made by the local government for aid.

Meetings of the jobless have been held every evening, but no discussion resulted. The men are ordinarily engaged in lumbering and pulp-making, but some operations are practically at a standstill.

WAR WORDS AT INQUIRY

Mayor Walker of New York Says There Is Attempt to Oust Him

New York, May 26.—Mayor James J. Walker, charged on the stand today that his being called as a witness before the Hofstadter legislative committee was in fact merely "an examination before trial," and a prelude to a removal of Governor Roosevelt to remove him from office.

Samuel Seabury, chief counsel of the committee, who is examining the mayor as to his administration of the city, replied the mayor's outburst was nothing but "cheap political stump speech."

Assemblyman Irving Stelting, during today's session charged the committee had spent "all but $67,000 of $750,000 appropriated to the committee" in fact merely "an examination before trial," and a prelude to a removal of Governor Roosevelt to remove him from office.

That statement is unqualifiedly false, said the assemblyman. It was when he made it, Seabury said. Seabury went back to the joint brokerage account of Paul Block, publisher, from which the mayor testified yesterday he had received more than $240,000 in less than two years, without making any investments.

"Have you been the beneficiary of any other funds or accounts since you've been mayor?" Seabury asked.

"I've had countless kindnesses," the witness said.

Questioned by Seabury about his business transactions since he became mayor, the witness replied:

"There are no records. I had no business."

The mayor denied Russell T. Sherwood, missing witness, had ever been his representative, either in the past or the future, and had performed certain services for him and Mrs. Walker.

COURT RULING CAUSES FLURRY

Quebec Workmen's Compensation Commission Is Declared Illegal

Ottawa, May 26.—The question of whether the act constituting the Workmen's Compensation Commission in the Province of Quebec is "ultra vires," is a matter entirely for that province. This was the opinion given by the officials of the Department of Justice when the judgment of Mr. Justice Delorme was referred to them. They declined to comment further.

No doubt the case will be carried through the courts, probably to the Privy Council in London and whether or not the Dominion will take any action in the matter will depend on the matter for future consideration.

Justice Department officials refused to express any opinion as to whether the compensation commissions in other provinces were in the same position as that of Quebec.

The Quebec Workmen's Compensation Commission, as well as the Workmen's Compensation Act itself, was declared illegal and unconstitutional yesterday by Mr. Justice Delorme of the Superior Court in Montreal in a judgment in which he scored the provincial Legislature for appointing persons who "usurped" the functions of the officials of the Department of Justice when the judgment of Mr. Justice Delorme was referred to them. They declined to comment further.

The Quebec Workmen's Compensation Commission, as well as the Workmen's Compensation Act itself, was declared illegal and unconstitutional yesterday by Mr. Justice Delorme of the Superior Court in Montreal in a judgment in which he scored the provincial Legislature for appointing persons who "usurped" the functions of the officials of the Department of Justice when the judgment of Mr. Justice Delorme was referred to them. They declined to comment further.

No doubt the case will be carried through the courts, probably to the Privy Council in London and whether or not the Dominion will take any action in the matter will depend on the matter for future consideration.

Justice Department officials refused to express any opinion as to whether the compensation commissions in other provinces were in the same position as that of Quebec.

HOTELMAN OF KELOWNA DIES

Kelowna, B.C., May 26.—The death occurred here yesterday of Major Edward Basil Kirkland Lloyd, manager of the Eldorado Arms Hotel, Okanagan Mission. He had been in the hospital since May 14, when he suffered injuries in an auto accident. A broken shoulder was being reset, and while under an anesthetic he passed away.

TRIAL ENDS IN ACQUITTAL

Man and Woman From India Freed in Vancouver

Vancouver, May 26.—Pursh Singh Dial, twenty-six, and Sham Kour, twenty-one, charged with conspiracy to murder the latter's husband, Mahar Singh, forty-four, were acquitted by a jury in the assize court here today after an hour and a half of deliberation. Chief Justice Morrison ordered their discharge from custody of the two accused.

Mahar Singh died April 5, 1921 aboard the liner President Lincoln one day after he had left Victoria, accompanied by his wife, for Hongkong, en route to India. The cause of death was cerebral hemorrhage.

With a contented smile, Sham Kour left the courtroom on the wheeled stretcher from which she had followed the trial and testified before the jury. She suffers from asthma.

Pursh Singh Dial, bearded young East Indian, was a under-graduate at the University of British Columbia for two years in arts and agriculture until he left to run a grocery store.

The accused reside with other Hindus in North Vancouver.

Discussing the accused, in the course of his charge, the Chief Justice provided that one was an undergraduate of a university, "although that should not be a circumstance against him," and the other was a woman "among a lot of husky unmarried men."

If the jurors were to guess, he said, they might guess there was a feud among these men, as to who should get control of this girl.

Instead of letters, written by Dial, pointing to a conspiracy to murder Mahar Singh, the correspondence, in the view of the chief justice, was susceptible of the meaning that the accused were attempting to beat the immigration department by bringing a boy relative into Canada from India. The authorities in his opinion might well have prosecuted them for conspiracy to bring the boy into the country.

The question was whether there was an agreement between the accused to murder Mahar Singh, who died a natural death. It was quite immaterial, he said, whether the object of the agreement was accomplished or not.

Mahar, weighing 250 pounds, had been employed many years in the office of the R. Portage Lumber Co. He had a reputation among the Hindu laborers for his strength.

Medical testimony during the trial was to the effect he drank as much as a quart of liquor a day.

BILLS SIGNED AT OTTAWA

Ottawa, May 26.—The Chief Justice of Canada, Rt. Hon. F. A. Anglin, as deputy to the Governor-General, today signed the following bills:

The Bankruptcy Act, the Income Tax Act, the Montreal Harbor Commission Act, 1894, the Civil Service Act, the Soldier Settlement Act and the Fisheries Act and the Special War Revenue Act.

Acts respecting the Department of Insurance, the Ottawa and New York Railway Company, the incorporation of livestock record associations, foreign insurance companies in Canada, Canadian and British insurance companies, radio broadcasting, the Waterton Glacier International Peace Park, an act to provide for the deduction from compensation in the public service: the supply bill; an act incorporating the W. S. Newton Company, and fourteen divorce bills.

Approval has been given the British commonwealth shipping agreement, the international convention for the amelioration of conditions of the wounded and sick in arms in the land, the international convention relative to the treatment of prisoners of war, the international convention for limiting the manufacture and regulating the distribution of narcotic drugs.

Members of the House of Commons: "I thank you for the provision you have made for the public service."

ATTITUDE OF CITIZENS
"Honorable members of the Senate: 'Members of the House of Commons: 'I do sincerely commend the fortitude and patience with which the Canadian people have endured the trials and hardships of these troubled times. Those attributes have equipped them to surmount whatever difficulties may yet be encountered before prosperity returns. Recurring disturbances in world conditions have rendered our progress the prosperity we rightly expect before this time has been delayed, for no nation can alone resist the influence of the universal disruption of financial and industrial conditions."

EMPIRE CONFERENCE
"Near at hand are the means by which this country organized and prepared, may hasten its economic recovery. Within two months' time an economic conference of the countries which compose the British Empire will meet at Ottawa. From that conference may arise a power which will bring enduring harmony out of economic distress and provide the wise and courageous leadership which is other than universal stress the world looked for and obtained from the British people. Canada believes the closer economic association of the British Empire will herald the dawn of a new greater era of prosperity both for ourselves and for all the nations of the earth."

"In relieving you from attendance on your parliamentary duties, I pray that Divine Providence may guide and bless you."

LONG SESSION
The session which ended today was opened February 4. Thus the closing came after sixteen weeks of work. Comparatively few members waited through to the end today. When adjournment came approximately an hour before last midnight there was a rush for taxicabs and late trains.

NEW TAXATION
Before crowded galleries and with an air of subdued excitement and expectancy, the last item on the order paper was jammed through a few minutes after the clock in the Peace Tower had boomed out 11 o'clock yesterday evening.

During the session closed today notice of the new tax on tobacco was given and led to two acts being passed, the last empowering the Dominion government to negotiate direct relief agreements with the provinces. Probably the feature enactment of the session was the Rhodes budget, embodying many taxation increases affecting every man, woman and child in the country.

Salaries of civil servants and seasonal indemnities of members and senators were cut 10 per cent.

McRuvie Wins In British Open Golf

Muirfield, Scotland, May 26.—Eric McRuvie, the only surviving British amateur golfer, won the British Open golf championship yesterday, the last sixteen to-day with a 4 and a victory over young Jack McLean.

McRuvie yesterday eliminated the Walker Cup captain, T. A. Torrance. Today's play was in atrocious weather, with high wind and heavy rain and over a sodden course deserted by all but the players.

CIVIL SERVICE CHANGES
The inquiry by a committee of the House of Commons into the operation of the Civil Service Act prepares the way for a reorganization of the Civil Service Commission and the better administration of matters pertaining to the civil service.

Another important measure enacted were bills respecting the Patented Act, unfair competition in trade and commerce, the export of gold, insurance, the Fisheries Act, the Judges' Act, the Excise Act, the Companies Act, the Soldiers' Settlement Act and the Railway Act.

Approval has been given the British commonwealth shipping agreement, the international convention for the amelioration of conditions of the wounded and sick in arms in the land, the international convention relative to the treatment of prisoners of war, the international convention for limiting the manufacture and regulating the distribution of narcotic drugs.

WOULD INCREASE FARM EXPORTS

Calgary, May 26.—Necessity for preference being given prairie agricultural products through channels to be decided at the forthcoming Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa in July is emphasized in a memorandum issued yesterday evening by the Calgary Board of Trade. The memorandum, prepared by the board at the request of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, was forwarded to the chamber executive and Premier Brodie of Alberta.

Through all discussions at the conference, the Calgary board suggested, the welfare of Canadian agriculture should be the uppermost thought. As exports to be considered, the memorandum suggested wheat and other grains, livestock and similar farm products.

The problems confronting Canadian railways was touched on in the memorandum. "Solution of the serious difficulties facing the Canadian railways would be found largely in the increased traffic the development of agriculture and other natural resources would undoubtedly create," the report states. It also points out that through increased exports, Canadian railways would benefit.

BIG RELIEF PLAN IN U.S.

Washington, May 26.—The combined Democratic steering and policy committees of the U.S. Senate yesterday approved the $2,000,000,000 unemployment relief programme drafted by a sub-committee headed by Senator Wagner of New York.

The committee authorized Senator Wagner to introduce the bill which proposed:

- Allotment of $300,000,000 under the present capitalization of the Reconstruction Corporation for loans to states for direct relief to the jobless.
- An increase of $1,500,000,000 in the capitalization of the corporation for loans for self-liquidating construction, both public and private.
- A bond issue of $300,000,000 for a public works programme.

The committees agreed to put the relief bill before the Senate as soon as the pending revenue measure has passed.

NEW CURRENCY TO BE DEBATED

London, May 26.—The British government intends to approach the currency discussion at the Ottawa Imperial Economic Conference with an open mind.

Sir E. Hilton Young, Minister of Health, speaking for the government in the Commons yesterday, was frank in his statement that the Ottawa discussions were expected to cover the proposal of bringing silver into the currency picture. The problem of bimetalism must be threshed out before Britain began consideration of a fresh basis for her currency.

Major W. E. Elliott, Financial Secretary of the Treasury, assured the House the government had no intention of returning to the gold standard as long as gold prices "behaved" as at present.

GEN. SHIRAKAWA OF JAPAN DIES

Commander at Shanghai Succumbs to Wounds Caused By Bomb

Shanghai, May 26.—General Yoshinori Shirakawa, commander-in-chief of the Japanese forces here, who was wounded when a bomb was thrown April 22, died today, Japanese military headquarters announced. The end came at 7:30 a.m. after the commander had suffered a relapse from wounds inflicted during exercises in Hongkong Park.

The relapse came two days ago and blood transfusions were given in rapid succession without avail.

When the Emperor learned General Shirakawa was nearing the end, he conferred the title of Baron on him, and further honored him with a gift of wine, symbolic of love and respect.

On Monday it was reported General Shirakawa had died, but he rallied and yesterday it was hoped he might possibly live.

General Shirakawa and six other high Japanese officials in Shanghai were wounded during ceremonies celebrating the birthday of Emperor Hirohito. H. Kawabata, president of the Shanghai Residents' Association, died from injuries suffered in the same explosion.

Subsequently a Korean revolutionary was blamed for the blast, and a Korean society president announced from a hiding place that he was responsible.

General Shirakawa was sixty-two years old, and had risen from minor rank during the Russo-Japanese war to supreme war councillor of Japan.

Gets Place in New Japan Cabinet

GEN. SADAO ARAKI

Tokyo, May 26.—The combination cabinet lined up by Admiral Makoto Saito for presentation to the Emperor today underwent an eleventh hour shake-up to include the strong Nationalist leader, General Sadao Araki.

General Araki was Minister of War and dominant figure in the cabinet which was overthrown by the assassination of Premier Suoyoshi Inukai.

The Imperial War Council took General Araki out of the cabinet picture soon after the assassination, and it was said this stroke was a severe blow to what is loosely known as Fascism in Japan.

General Araki accepted reappointment as Minister of War, and therefore is the army's representative in the National Coalition Government of Admiral Saito.

NAZIS BATTLE COMMUNISTS

Fight in Prussian Diet Most Violent in German Political History

Berlin, May 26.—Smouldering political passions in the new Prussian Diet broke out in hand-to-hand fighting between National Socialists and Communists yesterday with a violence unprecedented in the parliamentary history of Germany.

The Legislative Hall was wrecked and at least half a dozen members, including neutrals, were injured. Deputy Juergensen, a leader of the Social Democrats, who took no part in the fray, was carried unconscious to a hospital with one side of his face ripped open.

With fists, inkwells, chair legs and water bottles the legislators fought their battle to the bitter end without police interference. General Karl Litzman, senior member of Adolf Hitler's National Socialist Party, having declined the services of the police several days ago.

The trouble started after Hans Kerl, a National Socialist, had been elected President of the Diet and Ernst Wittmann, a Social Democrat, had been elected vice-president.

CHARGE OF MURDER

Wilhelm Pieck, a Communist deputy, rose to a point of order, and at the top of his voice shouted there were murders on the Nazi benches. The Nazis jumped up and made a mass attack on the Communist members, whom they outnumbered 162 to 57.

Tops were broken off desks, drawers were pulled out and uprooted, and ripped. Piles of books, card filing cases and fragments of furniture blocked the entrances from the lobbies after the air had cleared over the Communist sector, where most of damage was done.

The Communists were forced out of the hall during the battle, at the conclusion of which numerous deputies were pulled out and uprooted, and bleeding profusely.

Three Communist deputies, Kraemer, Kuhn and Gönke, were seriously hurt.

THREE KILLED IN BOMBAY CLASH

Bombay, India, May 26.—Three persons were killed and nine severely injured in a mill workers' riot in the northern section of Bombay today. Knife wounds were responsible for most of the casualties.

British troops using armored cars assisted the police in patrolling the area after the disturbance.

Wood Pulp From Here May Be Made Into Silk in Japan

Rayon Plants There Have Large Output and Are Increasing Production

By PERCY WHITEING

Canadian Press Staff Correspondent

Tokyo, by mail.—The demand of the rayon industry in Japan for wood pulp is increasing largely and has given impetus to Japanese wood pulp manufacture.

Consumption of wood pulp by Japanese artificial silk mills has doubled in recent years, and last year stood at slightly more than 32,000 tons in the near future. It is expected the government will introduce at the forthcoming session of the Diet a measure to increase the specific customs tariffs to meet the increases in the ad valorem duties automatically arising from the yen exchange decline. Wood pulp comes within this category, the tariff raising from 22 to 27 sen (11 to 13½ cents) per hundredweight and it is expected this will be increased to between thirty and forty per cent.

Some idea of the comparative prosperity of the Japanese rayon manufacturers is gained from the fact that among the many industries in this country, their mills are practically alone in working at full, or nearly full, capacity.

The rayon output in March reached 4,999,000 pounds, and it is estimated from the business so far handled that the total production for the present year will exceed 50,000,000 pounds. The April output showed an increase over that of March.

This development of the Japanese rayon industry—and the consequent expansion of the consumption of wood pulp, on which it depends—in spite of the fact that Japan is the world's most important producer of natural silk and the unprecedentedly low prices of the latter, is due to a number of causes. For one thing, rayon has become extremely popular with millions of Japanese women of the middle classes, who are noted for their economical ideas.

WELL ESTABLISHED

Another factor is the superior stability and business-like methods of the rayon industry here, in contrast with the disorganization and haphazard methods, combined with intermittent government interference alternating with lack of control, that have kept the natural silk industry of Japan in a state of turmoil for years, with little or no profit for anybody all the way from the mulberry growers and the silkworm farmers to the exporters.

Still another reason is that while there is a technical 25 per cent curtailment of output agreed to some time ago among the leading rayon manufacturers, this is not in practical effect, as they have a mutual agreement to operate their mills to capacity provided the surplus over the quantity earmarked for domestic sales is exported. The result is that the factories are in fact operated at capacity and a remarkable export business is being built up. This means, in effect, that the rayon manufacturers are exporting 25 per cent of their output at least, at present, with a prospective increase in mill capacity as their export market expands.

TO INCREASE OUTPUT

The export of rayon yarn approximated 1,000,000 pounds during last month, an increase of about 50 per cent over the preceding month. The quality exported during the first four months of the year was nearly twice as much as that shipped during the corresponding period of 1931. One factor contributing to this was the 30 per cent advantage Japanese exporters have enjoyed owing to the lower yen exchange rate since the Seiyukai Government reimposed the embargo on gold.

TO EXTEND MILLS

The leading rayon manufacturers of Japan, who number six or seven, are reported to be making plans for an extensive expansion of their mill capacity, to take effect late this year or early in 1933, which will be accompanied by an intensive cultivation of the export market, which includes the so-called "soft" rayon countries, such as the East Indies, southeast Asiatic countries, India and others. The increased outlet abroad for rayon yarn is accompanied by expanding export of rayon textiles as well. This is a factor in the increased manufacture of rayon yarn, a proportion of which goes into the domestic consumption of the weaving mills, part of whose production in turn goes abroad.

GOOD ADVICE

SPEAKING BEFORE THE VANCOUVER
Board of Trade yesterday, Mr. James A. Farrell, former president of the United States Steel Corporation and now a member of its directorate, urged the people of all countries to unite in resistance to undue isolation and the restriction of international trade.

Mr. Farrell is one of many commercial leaders who obviously are wondering how much longer the world is going to continue its tariff defauch. There seems to be no end to it. His own country, of course, has been and still remains one of the worst offenders. The Senate at Washington has just approved a proposal that virtually amounts to an embargo against Canadian lumber and copper, despite the fact that this country for many years has been a large importer of United States products.

Even if Congress approves this tariff bill, however, there is still the possibility of President Hoover exercising his power of veto. He is doubtless carefully noting the reaction the Senate's course is producing in this country.

JUDGES' SALARIES

IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS THE other day Premier Bennett expressed the view that the judges of Canada were underpaid and that very few of the best of Canadian lawyers can be induced to take the comparatively small salaries. This means, of course, that the brightest legal minds of the country are not available for the bench. The Ottawa Journal quotes the stipends of the judges in Great Britain:

Lord Justices of the Court of Appeal receive $25,000 a year.
Justices of the Chancery Division Court receive $25,000 a year.
Lords of Appeal in Ordinary receive $30,000 a year.
The Lord Chief Justice of England receives $40,000 a year.
The Justices of the King's Bench Division receive $25,000 a year.
The Judges of the Court of Criminal Appeal receive $25,000 a year.

The Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Canada is paid $15,000 a year, or considerably less than many lawyers earn in their ordinary practice. The judges of the higher courts of the provinces receive salaries which average around $10,000 a year, while judges of the lower courts receive as little as $5,000.

This may not be the right time, as our Ottawa contemporary observes, to start paying higher salaries to any class of worker. But when business conditions right themselves—as they must do before long—the case of the judges should be considered.

PRICE COUNTS

BRITISH ARCHITECTS HAVE BEEN told by Mr. F. P. Burden, Agent-General in London for British Columbia, that the British government should institute a quota plan to apply on empire softwoods, in preference to either tariff or embargo on foreign imports. The province's representative is quoted as having said that Soviet Russia had in the last two years virtually monopolized United Kingdom purchases of softwoods, blanketing empire sales and cutting heavily into former lumber exports from Finland and Sweden.

Our lumber exporters will naturally be glad of anything Mr. Burden may do to stimulate the lumber business with Great Britain. But he is up against a stiff proposition over there. The importer in the United Kingdom considers price first of all, and he pays about half as much for the Continental European product as he does for the Canadian product. If a quota plan were to be introduced, who would be responsible for the payment of the difference? Is it to be seriously argued that the already overburdened taxpayer of Britain, either directly or indirectly, would consent to some form of tax in order that empire softwoods might be imported in larger quantities? We can not overcome geography.

THE LAUSANNE CONFERENCE

REPRESENTATIVES OF FOURTEEN nations will meet at Lausanne next month in an effort to find some way out of the present economic and political muddle. It is to be hoped they will be able to forget extreme nationalism long enough to co-operate across not only one, but many, international boundaries.

Before the moratorium on German reparations and European war debts had been in effect more than a few months it became obvious that Germany would not be able to resume her payments after the year's debt holiday. Thus a conference was scheduled for last January but was postponed to "allow time for the more careful preparation of agenda, further opportunity for major participants to debate differences of opinion." These meetings have been held; yet nothing like the progress that was expected has been made.

Of the long list of items which have been mentioned at various times for inclusion in the agenda for the conference—reparations and debts, tariff barriers, foreign exchange restrictions, the gold standard, silver, aid for the Danubian states, readjustment of the Versailles treaty to allow more rational economic life in a number of areas in Europe—it is doubtful now if even the crucial issue of reparations can be settled satisfactorily. Certainly no settlement can be definite until after the United States elections and a new government faces the question of debt payments.

Germany's position was made clear the other day by Chancellor Brüning when he said: "The Lausanne conference will either be the road sign pointing the way to a new life or a millstone leading to collapse. There must be an end at last to our sacrifices. The world must realize we simply can not pay reparations." This is a bold statement. It reflects the challenge of Hitler and the Nazis. It reflects the often-repeated German point-of-view of the last six or eight months: "Reparations? Never. Commercial debts? To the last reichsmark."

France recently elected a Chamber of Deputies of a new complexion. With the Radical-Socialists the largest single party in the new chamber, and M. Herriot at its head, the world is inclined to expect a more liberal attitude at Lausanne. But it will be the first week in June before the cabinet is definitely formed. It can scarcely be determined just what proposals the new chamber will, and will not, support before the official representative of the cabinet is called upon at Lausanne to speak for French policy.

Although many conflicting views will have to be composed if the gathering is to be a success, the economic situation facing all the countries involved may furnish the delegates with sufficient determination to find some agreement that will show a way out of their difficulties.

SHADOW BOXING AT GENEVA

THE DELEGATES TO THE DISARMAMENT conference at Geneva are reporting their troubles. Press cables the other day reported that the delegates were unable to agree on what calibre guns should be classified as "offensive" weapons. They were trying to make such a classification because of a proposal that "offensive" weapons be abolished or internationalized.

Italy and Russia want every gun whose bore has a greater diameter than 100 millimeters—about four inches—classified in the "offensive" list. Germany wants a limit of seventy-seven millimeters. Great Britain, the United States, France and Japan are sticking for a limit of 155 millimeters.

Naturally, since there is such a divergence of views, the delegates are having a hard time getting together. But they need not despair. Their efforts, after all, are not being wasted. For, in spite of themselves, they are demonstrating to the world how unutterably futile and worthless a disarmament conference can be if it is based, as this one is, on faulty foundations.

Suppose that complete and perfect agreement could be reached about the guns. What then? Would the horrors of such a war be in the slightest degree lessened?

This conference seems to be not so much a disarmament conference as a despairing effort by world statesmen to maintain the status quo, with all of its seeds of international strife, while at the same time giving an appearance of working for world peace. It is not going to result in disarmament because nobody who is taking part in it really wants it to. It is an excellent display of shadow boxing.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

CANADA The Border Cities Star

In case you are thinking everything is wrong in Canada, let us remember a few things about the Dominion that should make us buck up.

Canada has 10,535,786 fine citizens.
Canada has an annual field crop value of around $400,000,000.

Canada produces 300,000,000 and more bushels of wheat annually.
Canada has some 58,000,000 acres in field crops.

Canada has livestock to the value of some $697,000,000. Canada has a dairy industry valued at $275,000,000. Canada has some 600,000 manufacturing employees. Canada has a manufacturing production valued annually at $4,063,987,778.

Canada has manufacturing capital invested in her industries to the extent of $5,083,014,954.
Canada has an annual mining production of $227,000,000.

Canada has an annual gold production valued at $55,000,000.
Canada has fisheries worth $47,800,000 per year.
Canada has an annual nickel production set at $24,550,000.

Canada has an annual coal production worth $53,287,000.
Canada has 42,831 miles of railways.
Canada has 1,500 miles of electric railways.

Canada has $1,055,725,000 invested in the development of electrical energy.
Canada has a tourist traffic bringing in close to $300,000,000 per year.

Canada has fire insurance valued at $9,670,000,000.
Canada has life insurance valued at $4,750,000,000.
Canada has bank deposits in excess of $2,000,000,000.

Canada has bank assets set at $3,237,000,000.
Canada has bank capital valued at $144,500,000.
Canada has investments in other countries to the extent of $1,750,000,000.

Canada has investments made in the Dominion by foreigners to the extent of $6,500,000,000.
Canada has some 1,400,000 telephones.
Canada has some 1,250,000 motor vehicles.

Canada has won world fair high awards in seventeen out of twenty-one years.
Canada has the largest hotel in the British Empire (Royal York at Toronto).
Canada has the highest commercial building in the British Empire (Canadian Bank of Commerce at Toronto).

Canada has the largest single canal lock in the world (in Welland Canal).
Canada has the largest and best producing nickel and asbestos mines in the world.
Canada has the largest inland seaport (Montreal).
Canada has good prospects of developing radium deposits.

Canada has more than 5,500 fur farms.
Canada has the largest automobile manufacturing company in the British Empire (Ford of Canada).
Canada has two dollars invested in Canada by Canadians for every one dollar invested in Canada by others.

Canada has a timber supply estimated at 224,500,000,000 feet B.M. of saw material and 1,120,000,000 cords of smaller materials.
Canada has ninety per cent of her forest area owned by the people.

Canada has twenty-three species of softwood and thirty-two species of hardwood.
Canada has seventeen canal systems with 473 miles of canals and 161 locks.
Canada has 372,000 miles of telegraph wires.

Canada is the terminus for six transoceanic cables. (Five are on the Atlantic and one on Pacific).
And so the story could be continued. Things may be dull and dreary for many these days. But all is not lost by any means. All these facts and many others show us that we are living in a great Dominion. Best of all, there are more than ten million Canadians—a race that has been proven to be the best.

Loose Ends

Some solemn stuff about political parties—a communication from a politician—a serious error—and a real possibility.

By H. B. W.

ONE OF British Columbia's most distinguished and ablest politicians recently sent me a clipping from an editorial in The New York Times, the substance of which was that democratic government could not do without political parties. My distinguished friend evidently thought I needed this instruction because my devotion to political parties of late has not been as passionate as political parties might desire, although why they should concern themselves with anything I say is more than I can imagine. It is a serious reflection on their competence.

ANYWAY, The New York Times editorial and my distinguished friend's reference to it illustrate the basis of the present discontent with party politics and also the utter confusion over it. The trouble with my friend and with politicians generally is that they do not understand the institution of party politics and the institution of the two major political parties are the same thing. The trouble with the critics of party politics is that they imagine that if the institution of the two major political parties can be done away with there will be no party politics. Both, of course, are entirely wrong, and it is time this error was cleared up.

WHAT the critics of the two major political parties have got to realize is that even if these organizations were wiped out to-night there would still be party politics to-morrow or the day after at the latest. What the politicians have got to realize is that party politics and good government can go on quite conveniently without them or their particular parties.

OF COURSE, there must be parties, and the continual proclamation of the facts by party politicians does not make the necessity clearer. In a democratic state there must be parties to carry out policies and programmes or government would become chaos. Indeed, the very gentlemen who want to abolish party politics would have to form a party to do it, and maintain the party and strengthen the party after they had succeeded, in order that some other partisan party might be kept out of office. Under our system, under whatever name you like, there must be some group in office with sufficient supporters to carry out its policies. It is a party whatever it may call itself.

Human nature being what it is, there will be some party to the popular opposition to this group. Whatever it may call itself, it will become a party inevitably if it wants to press its opposition. It is only in an autocracy or a dictatorship that you can have no parties. It is only under a Mussolini, who forbids anyone to run for office unless he is a Fascist, that you can avoid political divisions and argument.

THESE FACTS are so obvious that you wonder how anyone can have overlooked them. You wonder how anyone can seriously imagine that we can bring non-partisan unanimity into our system. At least, it is clear to the politicians, but they immediately proceed to fall into an error as fatal as the error of their enemies. They imagine, or most of them do, that because there must be parties, these parties must be their parties. They imagine that because our system calls for parties it also makes the shortcomings of the present parties inevitable. They imagine that the useful institution of party politics is good enough excuse for all the evils of party politics, that the system is sufficient apology for its abuse. There they are as wrong as those innocent souls who think there can be no parties at all. There they will some day get a sudden jolt and wake up.

THERE MUST be parties, but they need not be the present parties. Or they may be the present parties in name but entirely new parties in fact. After any party takes office, there must mean anything in most parts of the world. There are many men of Liberal mind in the Conservative Party of Canada and there are a vast number of the most reactionary Tories in the Liberal Party. The parties in Canada, according to my private view, which has no official confirmation anywhere, are not divided on the simple question of Conservatism versus Liberalism at all.

THAT IS WHY I say that while we must retain party politics, we don't have to retain the present party divisions.

sions. Without disturbing the actual system, even without altering the labels we can make another division which will really mean something and offer some real hope for the future. What we need in this country, the lack of which is making our politics and our economic system sick, is the consolidation in one party of all the people who believe in progress; who believe that the country is big enough and intelligent enough to be prosperous; who believe that men can control their affairs instead of leaving them to blind chance; who believe that the supreme good of the state is the good of the great mass of the people, not of a few privileged individuals; who, in fact, believe in themselves.

CALL THIS party, or this reformation of the existing parties, by whatever name you like, it would represent the real progressive spirit of this country, now smothered by a babel of partisan tongues. It would draw into it from both the present parties millions of Canadians who are now voting one way or the other, not with any real hope of positive good but because they fear the other party might be worse. Then let this party stand up and fight for the good of the great mass of the people, for all the working people, whether they work in white collars, with tools or behind the plough, who all suffer in common the evils of these times. Let that be the issue, the good of the bulk of Canadians as opposed to the good of the financial racketeers, the bribers of politicians, the friends of monopoly, the people who believe that the protection of wealth is a more important matter than the protection of human life.

THERE is a real issue for you, the only issue which matters in this crisis in the world's affairs, the issue between those who think something can be done about our economic life and those who think that human beings must suffer in silence and take what they get.

IF SUCH A PARTY of real progress could get elected to office remarkable changes would be witnessed, and the fact that such changes have nowhere been witnessed yet is due to the fact that no such party has ever got into office anywhere. Remarkable changes would be witnessed because most of the problems which vex us to-day would disappear when all policies were based not on old notions and old war cries, but on the good of the public and on nothing else. And such a movement would be the best safeguard against Bolshevism, the confiscation of private property and other revolutionary schemes which somehow don't fit in with our particular temperament. Meanwhile, the opposition to progress under the inherited political litter of centuries, is making more Bolshevists and wild men than all the political organized propaganda of Communism.

NEW RELIEF PLAN DEBATED

Canadian Press

Windsor, Ont., May 26.—A plan under which taxpayers would get a direct return for the amount of their taxes used for welfare purposes, and an entirely new method of handling the work done by welfare recipients, was proposed yesterday by Mayor David A. Croil and will go to the Windsor city council for consideration.

At present those who receive welfare aid are given odd jobs by the city.

much of it of minor importance and more to provide work than to get needed results. Mayor Croil proposes any taxpayer may call for a man to do any work that is required and is in his line. The man would be paid by the city, from the welfare fund, at what might be fixed as a fair wage for the particular kind of work. The taxpayer would not be called on to pay anything up to the amount of his taxes that go into the welfare department funds.

As an illustration, if $15 from the taxes on some property went into the fund, and this taxpayer wanted carpenter work done on that particular property, then a carpenter would be sent to work out the $15, at the fair wage scale of pay.

CRISIS BILL PLAN DROPPED

Ottawa Session Ends With
No Emergency Finance
Measure Passed

Canadian Press

Ottawa, May 26.—The Commons, in completing its business yesterday evening, was able to clear the order paper. The government decided it was not necessary to bring in a bill to give a further power to act in case a financial crisis should develop on this continent. It was felt that the possibility of such a development was remote, and the view was also taken that the Relief Act and other measures passed during the present session furnished such power as might be required.

Three committee reports, the results of many sessions of the committees concerned, were not concurred in. One was from the agricultural committee concerning separate grading of Garret wheat. The second was from the banking and commerce committee on the price of gasoline in Canada. The third was the report of the special committee which investigated certain statements alleged to have been made by Hon. G. N. Gordon of Peterboro, Ont.

Doukhobors Not To Compete

No suggestion has been advanced that the Sidney Island brick plant should compete with private plants if Doukhobors are put to work there.

Attorney-General Pooley informed the City Council in a communication received at the City Hall yesterday. Recently the council expressed strong opposition to the reported proposal to bring Doukhobors to Sidney Island to make bricks.

Mr. Pooley also pointed out that as far as the Doukhobors, who have been sentenced to jail, are concerned, the Dominion government has control.

QUEEN CROWNED AT CUMBERLAND

Miss Myrtle McMillan Presides Over Notable Celebration at Up-island City

Presentation of Royal Humane Society's Medals For Life Saving

Special to The Times
Cumberland, May 26.—Fine weather marked the May 24 celebration on Tuesday, Cumberland being the converging point for crowds from all over the district. One of the best-attended events here for some years was staged, followed by the crowning of Miss Myrtle McMillan as Queen of the May.

The crowning ceremony was performed by the retiring queen, Miss Alice Brown, the maids of honor being the Misses Wardina Thomson and Jean Quinn, and the pages Albert Monks and Jimmy Ellis. Following the crowning ceremony little tots from the public school danced the maypole, always a feature of the May Day ceremonies at Cumberland.

A feature of the afternoon programme was the presentation of Royal Humane Society's medals for life saving to John Buchanan of Cumberland and to John Cochran of Alberta, awarded for the rescue of John Cavanaugh from drowning at Oyster River last July. The presentation was made by Col. C. W. Villiers, general manager of the Canadian Collieries. Dr. G. K. MacNaughton, M.P.P., also took part in the ceremony. One of the principal attractions was the competitive dancing for medals which continued all afternoon while other sports were in progress. The long list of sports ended with a spirited baseball game, and in the evening a monster open air dance was held under the auspices of the Cumberland United Sports Association on the temporary floor at the City Park, where it is proposed that the Community Hall, which this organization was formed to promote, will be built. The dance was a success in spite of a cold night, bonfires providing plenty of warmth.

The result of the sports were as follows:
Boys' race, 7 years and under, 50 yards—1, T. Agaki; 2, Kazuki; 3, Kazuki.
Girls' race, 7 years and under, 50 yards—1, V. Felone; 2, F. Foster; 3, R. Robertson.

PENDER ISLAND

Pender Island, May 28.—Goodwill day was fittingly observed at the school with a programme prior to the opening of classes. The trustees, Messrs. F. C. Smith, Wm. Falconer, and G. Boyer, attended the latter giving a brief talk on "International Goodwill."

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Chamberlain of New Westminster are spending a holiday on the island, the guests of the latter's sons, H. H. and L. W. Auchter, and of her sister, Mrs. J. A. Beckett.

Mrs. Waugh of Pender Island made goodbye to her sister, Miss Dewar, on Thursday as she left for her new appointment in South America.

Dave Menzies, who recently underwent an operation in Vancouver, is recovering and expects to return home shortly.

William Molison, H. McNeill and F. Moore have left during the last week for the salmon fishing around Nahalmo.

Mrs. Aylwin of Youbou, Cowichan Lake, is a guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Don Cousineau, Otter Bay.

Mrs. John Aitken and family have been over from Maying Island on a visit.

with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. Newham, Otter Bay.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Wilson and baby son, who have been spending the last two months with Mrs. Wilson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Kirk, have returned to their home in Vancouver.

Rev. and Mrs. J. C. Stewart and their son, Donald, of Vancouver, are occupying the manse during the next few weeks while Mr. Stewart is supplying for the United Church until the arrival of the new appointee, Rev. W. A. Alexander.

Rev. W. A. Alexander of Alberni has been appointed to the United Church pastorage here in succession to Rev. S.

S. Peat, while the Rev. R. D. Porter, also of Alberni, and formerly vicar here, has been appointed by the Anglican Church to the local charge, succeeding Rev. J. Mayer.

Art Bowerman left on Thursday for a trip to Kelowna, where he will visit his sister, Mrs. Cyril Weeks. He was accompanied by Major Boyer.

The United Church Women's Missionary Society met twice last week, first at Mrs. S. P. Corbett's home for a wool carding "bee," and later at the manse on Friday for the annual quilting "bee."

Mrs. H. E. Boyce is spending a week with her daughter, Mrs. T. J. McPherson.

ADVERTISE IN THE VICTORIA DAILY TIMES

KING NOT MERE FIGURE-HEAD

Says Rev. E. S. Russell in Address Before National I.O.D.E. Yesterday

Avers Britain a Country Beyond "High Water Mark of Revolution"

Canadian Press
Toronto, May 26.—The British Empire and bound people of all races, colors and nationalities together because it was based on high concepts of "living together," said Rev. E. S. Russell, Toronto, addressing a dinner given delegates to the national convention of the Imperial Order of Daughters of the Empire by the Municipal Chapter of Toronto yesterday evening.

The first of these concepts, Dr. Russell believed, was "a secure and beloved monarchy, upheld by a tradition of the highest ideals." He characterized as "arrant rot," the opinion that His Majesty was but a figurehead, and said the influence of the King through unobtrusive means was one of the most considerable in the councils of the empire's leaders.

The "dignity and purity" of British public life was another basic tradition which had recently been "magnificently illustrated" when a Conservative carried on for a Labor man when his eyes were closed.

To a native respect for the law and its dignified enforcement by the police, the British citizen added the gift of good nature. For those reasons, he thought Britain was a country above the "high water mark of revolution, a country with no republican party."

CHILD WELFARE
At yesterday afternoon's session, when reports were presented, Mrs. A. U. de Pencier, Vancouver, convener of the child welfare committee, told the convention that ninety-seven chapters in Ontario spent $25,643 on child welfare work during the past year. Mrs. de Pencier outlined work of child welfare committees in all parts of the country dealing with establishment and maintenance of baby clinics, maintenance of camps and provision of direct relief to needy families of numerous children.

Reports from other provinces, although not as complete as that for Ontario, showed keen interest continued in work among children throughout the Dominion.

Amy Johnson And Mrs. Putnam Met For First Time

London, May 26.—Amy Johnson, Great Britain's first air woman, and Mrs. Amelia Earhart Putnam, transatlantic flier, met to-day for the first time.

Mrs. Johnson, accompanied by her fiancée, J. A. Molison, famous British long-distance flier, went to the United States Embassy at Prince's Gate to see Mrs. Putnam. They chatted for long time and for photographs in the garden of the embassy.

Molison, in view of the projected transatlantic flight which he plans to make soon, asked Mrs. Putnam a number of questions about flying conditions over the ocean, especially regarding the formation of ice on the wings.

Mrs. Putnam asked whether Mrs. Johnson would make the flight with Molison, but the couple replied they could not say definitely.

The air women helped create another record when she had lunch at the Royal Aero Club, where Lady Bailey, Winifred Spooner and Miss Johnson also were present.

At a reception after the luncheon, Lord Gorell said it was the first time women had been admitted to the club, but the committee felt that, since Mrs. Putnam's transatlantic time was an air record, a record also should be set.

QUEEN MARY IS SIXTY-FIVE TO-DAY
Canadian Press
London, May 26.—Queen Mary to-day celebrated her sixty-fifth birthday quietly at Buckingham Palace with a luncheon attended by members of the royal family.

Servants at the palace drank the Queen's health in champagne provided by the King. Guns fired a royal salute in Hyde Park. Ships of the royal navy throughout the world were dressed up for the occasion.

MASSED CHOIR TO BE FORMED

Correlation of Local Choirs to Present Big Work Suggested at Meeting

Co-ordination and correlation of all the choral bodies of the city into some sort of composite choir, with a view to the presentation of one of the larger choral works and to facilitate singing by a massed body should occasion arise, was tentatively planned at a meeting held in the Y.W.C.A. yesterday evening under the auspices of the Victoria Musical Art Society. Mrs. W. A. Jameson, the president, was in the chair.

Nearly forty choir leaders and members of local choirs attended the meeting at the invitation of the committee appointed by the Musical Art Society to look into the matter. The personnel including Mrs. T. H. Johns, J. H. Hinton, Stanley Bulley and Mrs. W. H. Wilson, Mr. Hinton read an interesting letter from Dr. Armstrong, adjudicator at the recent musical festival, setting out his views on the subject and warmly advocating the co-ordination of the many Victoria choral bodies into a massed choir.

During the ensuing discussion emphasis was laid upon the fact that it was not intended to organize a new choral body, but merely to correlate the splendid material already to hand, with a view to presenting either one large choral work or several smaller cantatas by a massed choir at some future date.

The general acquiescence of the gathering was crystallized by the resolution of Frederic King, calling for the appointment of a committee of all the choir leaders present, who will meet on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in the guild room of the Memorial Hall to formulate plans, which will be submitted to a general meeting later.

The Victoria Ladies' Choir will be heard in recital at the K. of P. Hall, Duncan, to-morrow. Under the leadership of Ira Dilworth the choir will render five groups of songs and will be assisted by Miss Mary Phillips, violinist, of Victoria, who has chosen as her solo: "Adagio," Opus 34, by Franz Ries, and "Liebeslied," by Fritz Kreisler.

Two members of the choir will be heard in vocal solos, Mabelle Pebernart singing "Ah, Love But a Day" (Beach), and Sanderson's "Valley of Laughter," while Mona Bradford will sing Mendelssohn's "On Wings of Song," and "Calm As The Night" (Bohm). The choir has chosen many beautiful classical and popular numbers for its programme.

A delightful surprise party was held Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Drummond, 1755 First Street, in honor of their daughter, Betty.

The evening was spent in playing games and dancing. The prize winners were: Iris Moll, Doris McCaghey, Dave Miller and Norman Dawson. The self-invited guests were: Ritchie Edna Hawley, Doris McCaghey, Iris Moll, Edith Drummond, Messrs. Jim McInnes, Dave Miller, Norman Dawson, Charles Dickinson, Haden Gage, Tom Kellington and John Drummond.

The Metropolitan Badminton Club held its annual picnic on Empire Day at the summer residence of Mr. Harry Catterall, Leigh Road. Swimming, boating and canoeing were enjoyed. While "an exciting" baseball game was being played, the outdoor activities concluded the evening. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Ritchie, Mrs. Margaret Ritchie, Miss Mary Cluff, Miss Mary Pacey, Miss Meta Ritchie, Miss Edith Brand, Miss K. Taylor, Miss Davina Ritchie, Miss Winnifred Taylor, Miss Ethel Hartley, Miss Maizie Hartley, Miss Laura Catterall, Messrs. J. Townsend, Alfred Mather, G. Cluff, Bob Ferguson, John Burbridge, E. Cluff, A. Gray and Tom Catterall.

Mrs. J. Rodd was hostess at her home, Seaman Street, at a delightful musical evening. GIRLS HURT AT RECTOR'S TRIAL
London, May 26.—Several young women were injured today while attempting to push their way into Church House, Westminster, where Rev. H. F. Davidson, sixty-two-year-old rector of Stifford, is being tried on charges of immorality.

Sensational testimony during the last few days resulted in a large crowd of onlookers when the court convened to-day.

After a struggle in which several girls were painfully crushed, police got control and locked the doors of Church House. They locked out hundreds of persons.

KOTEX IS SAFE

No question mark hovers over Kotex. No incessant doubt as to how it was made, where, under what conditions.

With Kotex one is secure. Secure in its comfort and thorough protection. Secure, too, knowing it was made in a spotless, air-washed factory. By uniformed workers. Of tested materials. Inspected 76 times during the course of manufacture. Cut, folded, packed by machinery in hygienically sealed dust-proof packages. It is sanitary and it protects in every sense.

Safe—Kotex—Soft
Millions of Kotex pads are used in Canada's leading hospitals every year!

Kotex may be worn on either side with equal safety. It protects either way. It stays soft... even the gauze is treated to make it amazingly soft.

Is adjustable. And, of course, disposable. Ask for Kotex. And make sure—when buying it wrapped—that you do get genuine Kotex.

IN HOSPITALS...

1. The Kotex absorbent is the identical material used by surgeons in Canada's leading hospitals.
2. Kotex is soft... Even the gauze is specially treated to make it amazingly soft.
3. Can be worn on either side with equal comfort. No embarrassment. Inconspicuous.
4. Disposable, instantly, completely.

The Story of a Postman; What He Thinks and What He Sees While on His Route; Happiness a State of Mind; A Satisfying Hobby—and Some Other Facts.

Dear Marge:—I have here the material for a good story—a story of patience, hope, determination and happiness; now all it needs is the gift to tell it.

Lacking the gift, I shall stick to the postman and tell it as nearly as possible as the postman told me, for it is his story.

For twenty-five years this postman has been delivering mail to the same district in Victoria. He is a landmark. You go—say, call away for months, years; when you return you see him, unchanged, familiar, reliable.

For twenty-five years he has walked fifteen miles a day with a pack of forty pounds, as he leaves the head office. Anything over forty pounds is delivered by truck to a certain location and is picked up from there later—after the postman has delivered his first load. "If you care to you can figure the mileage for twenty-five years—leaving out of course holidays and Sundays. It runs into thousands."

"But weren't there times when you got discouraged and wanted a change of occupation, when you thought that perhaps life held something bigger, more successful, more thrilling?" I asked him.

"Well I might have done something else, painting and illustrating, for instance, I always liked that, but I figure it's not what you do that matters; it's what you think—and I'm happy. My route is like one big garden. I can't understand how people can walk along and not feel and see the beauty on all sides of them." He felt he was becoming a little too enthusiastic, wearing his heart on his sleeve, as it were, and said: "What are you writing there?" "The right" "You like me writing down what he said, and he told me so. Nevertheless, he knew I was interested and he went on: "Some people are always complaining. To me, where they do or what they do, nothing would ever suit them. It's themselves they must contend with, wherever they go."

I said: "After calling for so long at the same house you must be on friendly terms with the inhabitants." "Well, first when I started this job," he said, "I had a smile for everyone, but it soon wore off. A postman is as human as anyone, so after half a dozen snubs from the same people I stopped trying to be friendly. Some people, you know, will speak to you when they see you in their own garden, but when you meet them on Government Street, they don't remember you. It doesn't matter, it hasn't soured me or anything like that."

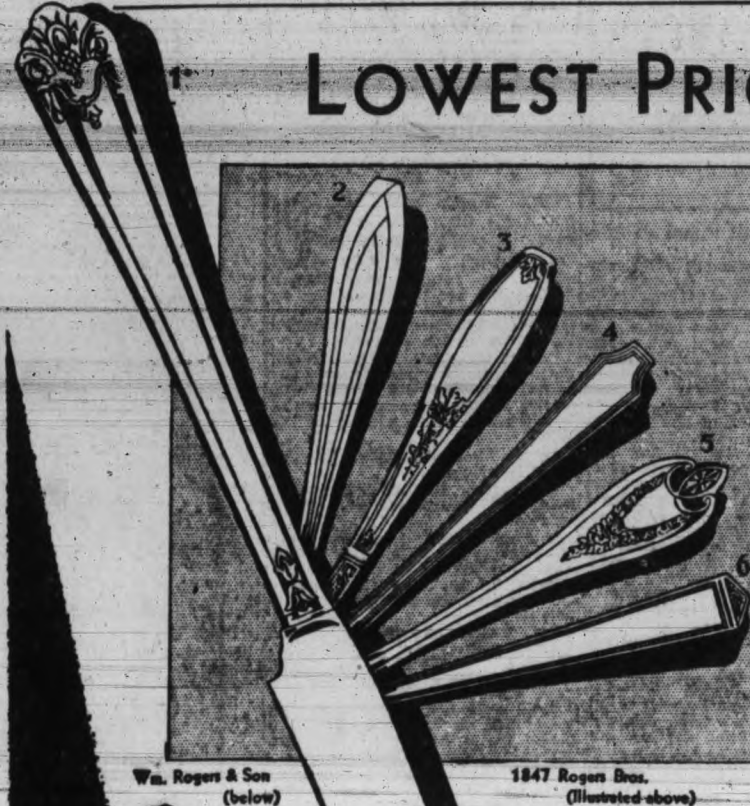

And if he was being perfectly truthful, what a lot he has learned, and what a lot to be thankful for, because most of us are sensitive to snubs and they do matter.

We discussed conditions (I was going to say "economics," but on second thought, decided the word involved more weight and dignity than fitted our discussion), and found he agreed on most things, including a liking and admiration for the democracy of poverty.

"I'm something of a painter, would you like to see my pictures?" he asked. I had known this before I went to see him, and had been waiting for the question, which I felt sure would come. Always since boyhood, he has enjoyed painting and, lately, since he has given up fishing (because his wife doesn't like the long hard tramps, any more) his painting urge has been given fresh impetus, and he takes his paints with him on all of his holiday trips.

Of course the climax to a story like this would be to discover and recognize then and there, the genius of a Corot or a Raphael. For aught I know to the contrary, he may have it—fortunately or unfortunately I am no judge.

I saw a water color painting from Mrs. Patterson's garden in the Uplands, that was very pretty indeed. I saw a picture of two kittens (a copy from a

Our Bridal Number

It's a year of lace for brides... we mean lace gowns, of course. Word comes from fashion centres that up-to-the-minute brides will wear less lace in their veils.

Good Luck to the Bride and the happy bridesmaid who catches the bride bouquet from the Patsy Shop. Artistically designed bouquets for brides and bridesmaids, 613 Fort.

About That New Husband of Yours!

A good dinner and a good jig-saw puzzle to work on... and he'll be proof against all outside attractions! "The Marionette," 681 Fort Street.

The Thoughtful Groom

will make sure there's a generous box of Jean Fraley chocolates tucked away in her traveling case, 609 View.

A Suggestion of Fragrance

enhanced the loveliness of the bride's hair. Ask for a Robigant Individual Lotion finger wave in your favorite fragrance—the wave dries in half the time and leaves your hair brilliant and lovely. Maison-Tyrell, at David Spencer's.

A New Joy in Living awaits those who face the facts. Superfluous hair painlessly, permanently, scientifically removed. Marton-Dermic Laboratories, 612 Sayward Bldg. E 7644.

Here Comes the Bride

arrayed in a dainty, lace gown—angel suede, a lace as alluring as it sounds, fashioned on flattering lines to make the bride look more fascinating... and lovely sheer bridal frocks of georgette... pastel frocks for pretty bridesmaids and, of course, a complete line of accessories. A. K. Love, View Street, just off Douglas.

And On Her Feet

smart white moire pumps—or she may have white satin, either at $5.95... and a pair of navy blue kid with red and white trimmings for traveling. $4.95. Fashion Bootery, 743 Yates.

Speaking of Traveling

"Aeropacks" are complete even to shoe bags, or choose a "Pakrite" or "Voguerobe"—or any other kind of traveling trunk or case at McMartin's, 716 Yates.

News for Mothers

Wonderful values in boys' pullover sweaters are being shown at The Boys' Shop, Limited, 714 View. Priced at $1.50, $1.95, $2.50 and $2.95. Plain and fancy designs.

Every Bride

will want to include several pairs of these dainty, fashionable mesh silk stockings in her trousseau. All the spring shades, $1.95 stockings for $1.50, also at $1.25. Embroidered and lace-trimmed crepe de Chine dance sets, exceptional values at $1.95. B. M. Clarke, 711 Yates.

Dainty and Rich

Brazil fancies—fairies, nut filled, cherry nut, white and chocolate boats—a few English Bakery fancies that make any party more enjoyable. 728 Fort.

How Important It Is to make a proper start by seeing that your wedding stationery is correctly engraved or printed and that little things like wedding cake cards and boxes are taken care of. Diggon's can give you authentic advice and they can also supply an excellent selection of engagement, congratulation and gift cards, also shower containers. Government Street.

A Proper Beginning

That soft grace of outline so essential under your wedding gown, can be supplied by a Spencer Foundation Garment. Marlen J. Cody, 1019 Terrace.

We Wanted to Go Home for luncheon... but when we visited the Nutshell kitchen and saw a scrumptious pudding being concocted from rich loganberry juice, loganberries and cream, we just had to stay and try it! 617 Fort.

Let Nature Lend Enchantment to your bridal picture. Midst June flowers—pinks, peonies, gladioli—grace and interest. Knight's Studio, 707 1/2 Fort.

Lace for the Bride

Soft, creamy wool lace gowns with little jackets to match or sheer chiffons in white, with close-fitting waists and wide ankle-length skirts. And for her lovely attendants triple-sheer printed georgettes or soft tullestas in dainty Dresden effects. For the lucky wedding, go to Seurrah's to be fitted out. Seurrah's Limited, 728 Yates Street.

A Bride on Your Mind?

It's too bright outdoors to struggle with perplexing problems. If you've received a square white envelope with an important announcement and are now giddy, give up the struggle and let some of Patsy's shops help you.

The Bride Cut the Cake

Luxuriously rich with first quality ingredients, 80c lb. decorated—any size, any price, to order. The Bon Ton also specializes in small assorted fancy cakes for wedding parties, 40c a doz. Week-end special, assorted candies, 80c box. 1213 Douglas Street.

Enchantingly Attired for Traveling

And now we add the final touch of perfection to the bride's trousseau, a luxurious silver fox or natural blue fox scarf from the beautiful fur salon of Gordon Furriers, 716 Fort Street, just east of Douglas.

The Choice of 1932

Current brides are not going in heavily for lace—a mere cap of it atop a tulle veil is more 1932. We specialize in bridal veils and accessories. Crown Millinery Parlors, 621 View Street.

The Hole Truth

and nothing but mesh. That's the story for summer. Everything the smart woman wears nowadays—from her undies and stockings to her frocks—has holes in it!

A New Thrill Awaits You

when you look in your mirror and see the wonderful transformation effected by Harper Method treatments for the hair and skin. 313 Sayward Bldg. E 4926.

And Let's Not Forget the Groom!

If he spends a few minutes in Greer's Men's Wear Shop, he'll find just the correct hat and gloves, and soft grey ties to complete his attire for the important day. And, of course, all his other needs can be met there, too. 637 Fort.

Buy Your Gift in London

Wedding gifts exactly as you would choose in fashionable London shops, and you will be surprised at the very modest prices for exquisite and useful home adornments that will be a constant joy to the bride. Tea and dinner services, art pottery, hand-carved crystal, pictures, and delightful pieces of Old English hand-made furniture. Period Arts Ltd., Belmont House, corner Government Street.

Ringed Round With Joy

In one of the new style Trulove, Forget-me-not or Orange Blossom wedding rings. Brides will love them just as much as their glittering engagement rings. Little and Taylor, 1209 Douglas.

The Soft Glow of Loveliness

Helena Rubinstein water lily powder gives a creamy loveliness to the skin that every bride longs for. Sold in six different shades at $9.00 box. Art Minnis, Dispensing Chemist, 720 Yates Street.

postcard, with the aid of his own house cat as model, and I saw an Indian's head whose classic features put Byron, Apollo and others in the shade.

"Now, that's supposed to be Lake Windermere, and that's supposed to be Multnomah Falls in Oregon," he said. The phrase "that's supposed to be," modestly prefaced nearly every announcement.

Whether the picture were good or bad doesn't signify very much concerning the man. Perhaps with training and advantages the world might have had another master. He has the hands of an artist, and a soul that recognizes and understands beauty, but he has an unwavering sense of duty, and an ear that heard a warning not to forsake a certainty for a dream.

Just now I have looked through my notes and discover that I have left out certain facts, but facts are inconsequential and uninteresting. But I can tell you that this man was born in Staffordshire, England, is married and has one son, that he likes Victoria better than any other place in the world, and that delivering mail is, he thinks, the most healthful job there is.—Au revoir.

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

ROCKABYE HABIT SOON MAKES MARTYR OF MOTHER

When the baby is young and sweet and cuddly, the mother gets an enormous amount of pleasure out of bundling him in her arms and rocking and singing him to sleep. It is a purely selfish pleasure, because baby doesn't need to be rocked to sleep. Sleep comes upon the tired baby without any preliminary rocking ceremony. That is the natural way to go to sleep.

But it is true that constant motion increases sleepiness. This may be because one can't continually focus his eyes upon a changing scene, and eventually fatigue of the eyes and their closing ends in slumber.

LEARNED HABIT
The trouble is that this is a learned habit with baby. If he is never rocked, he never knows how pleasant it is to be swayed back and forth until performance he just has to go to sleep. If the stage is set properly with quiet, a comfortable bed, and a full tummy, baby will settle himself and accept sleep without a struggle.

The rocking habit in those early days is very easily fixed. No matter for what reason a mother starts to rock the baby, the young hopeful grows exceedingly loath to part with the attention. There may be reasons why the mother thinks it necessary to start this, and there are always plenty of adults who tell her persuasively that she ought to do it. That advice, plus her own sentimentalism toward this new possession, is quite enough to start mothers off on a habit that gets baby in its grip and grows and grows upon him.

"WHAT CAN I DO?"

—GO FOR IT!—nevertheless any mother of an old baby who has not reversed their inability to stop the habit. Their plea is always, "Please, tell me something that will cure him of the habit!" To tell you the truth, I don't know. Once you have accustomed a baby to thinking that motion and sleep are firmly connected, it isn't an easy or a peaceful struggle to convince him otherwise. He can quiver the mother's determination to let him follow himself to sleep. And then can crawl into her reluctant arms and go to sleep so promptly that she becomes resigned to the martyrdom of devoting some part of each evening and each afternoon to getting him in a mood for slumber.

SLEEP ALONE

All we can do is to urge mothers not to start this habit. Babies should, for their own good health and well-being, sleep alone in comfortable bassinets or cribs. They should learn from the very first days of infancy that sleep follows upon their being tucked into bed and some pleasant voice saying, "Go to sleep, baby."

When a baby is young and unable to move about easily, he may need to have his position changed frequently, he may need a drink of water, a dry diaper, some gentle patting to relieve him of troublesome gas, or he may need more or less food to make him happy and comfortable. He does not need to be dizzied into unconsciousness by a mother who assumes this duty with pleasure and grows more and more irritated at the baby's increasing demands for just this attention which she has forced upon him.

SOCIAL, PERSONAL AND HOME INTERESTS

"The Plains of Abraham"

BY JAMES OLIVER CURWOOD
(Copyright by Doubleday Doran Co., Inc.)

"In all of New France and the English colonies there is no better teacher than our Catherine," answered Henri proudly. "In English and French she has given to Jeems more than he could ever have learned in your town of Albany or our college in Quebec; for there, in one place, he would have been English, and in the other, French, while here he is both, like his father and mother, and will never strike at either of the two bloods that are in his veins."

"Of that I am sure," agreed Catherine. "I pray God my Jeems will never be a fighting man."

When Hepzibah went to his cot in the loft, he stood for a moment with his lighted candle beside Jeems's bed where the boy lay sleeping with the cloth of velvet close to his hands, a smile on his lips. Looking down on him Hepzibah thought of Henri Bu-lain's last words and his sister's prayer, and his lips moved whispering to himself, "They can't keep it from you, lad—hope nor prayer nor all their faith. It's coming, and when it comes you'll strike and strike hard, and it's then you'll be what you're bound to be, Jeems—a fighting man!"

Catherine's breakfast was on the table with the break of sunrise, and Jeems was even ahead of that, helping his father with the chores. The cot was fed and the cart ready for a day's rough travel before his Uncle Hepzibah came down from his sleep. Talk of war and massacre and death had left no shadow in Catherine's heart, and Hepzibah could hear her singing. The sound of her voice made him pause and face the south. His wide shoulders twitched, and he marked the swelling and tips of the timbered solitudes of Forbidden Valley, and saw where the Mohawks would enter it, and where they would come out if his prediction and his fear came true. With the shiver still in his blood, he turned and found Odd standing close behind him, also facing the stillness and mystery of the valley, his nose sniffing the air, and his eyes—as the man's had been a moment before—filled with a steadiness and tenseness of look which had in it a sombre and voiceless foreboding.

At the touch of Hepzibah's hand the strain seemed to leave Odd's body. "I'll bear watching day and night, but specially in that hour of darkness which comes just before the crack of dawn. Not now, but soon!"

When Jeems went ahead of his father and uncle to Lussan's place, he did not burden himself with unnecessary habiliments of either peace or war. He wore his old suit of brown homespun cloth, with Indian-made moccasins and leggings of doe-skin, and on his head was a frontiersman's cap with an eagle feather in it. From under this cap his blond hair fell with its ends touching his shoulders, and with only his bow for a weapon his slim young body was free and buoyant and much handsomer than it had been the previous day with its carefully chosen raiment and warlike accoutrements.

He was filled with exultation mingled with a determined eagerness. He knew he would fight if Paul Tache was at Lussan's place, and what was going to happen in that fight was as definitely fixed in his mind. He was on his way to elevate himself to supreme heights in the opinion of Marie Antoinette. Tanteur—after he had given her the piece of velvet.

No one was ahead of him when he arrived at Lussan's place. It was nine o'clock, and the sale was not until eleven. Half of a young ox was spitted on a long iron bar and slowly roasting over a red-hot mass of hickory coals. The outside Dutch oven was filled with a huge baking of bread, and benches were set with pewter and snow-white dishes of poplar wood. Lussan was a famous maker of whiskey and flip and beer, and three barrels were ready, loaded on chunks of wood with their spigots down, waiting for the willing hands of his friends and neighbors to turn them.

Jeems hunted out the plow and kettle and loom which his father wanted to buy. While occupied in this way, he came upon a table piled with a hotchpot of articles, and his heart gave a pump when he saw a number of books printed in English. His mind was filled with the thought of his mother's joy if he could take these treasures home to her. There were five of the books, Malvern Dale, Ewell's, Telemachus, Elissa and Joseph Andrews, a thrilling list of titles it seemed to him, and as quickly as he could he approached Lussan upon the subject of their worth and purchase. Seeing no merit in "printed" English and small chance for their sale, and being as free-hearted a man and already warmed by his own excellent beer, Lussan gave them to Jeems.

Overjoyed by this unexpected windfall of fortune, Jeems began to watch anxiously for the coming of his father and Uncle Hepzibah and for the appearance of the seigneur Tanteur and whoever might be with him. He placed himself where he could see down the road that came from the Tanteur seigneurie, and when at last he heard the auctioneer's voice bellowing forth his announcement that the sale was about to begin, he felt a sombre sinking of his hopes. They lived instantly when three figures on horseback appeared at the end of the half mile of road. The foremost rider was Tanteur, the second Paul Tache, and in the third saddle rode a slim, wide-hatted little person who was none other than Marie Antoinette Tanteur herself.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily's Found Twinkle

By HOWARD R. GARIS

Uncle Wiggily, with Jingle and Jangle, his little twin rabbit girls, stood back of the bungalow looking at Baby Bunting. The little orphan rabbit was covered with chicken feathers and had been made blue by being dipped into a tub of blue water that Nurse Jane had used to brighten the clothes for Mrs. Longears.

"Yes, I am greatly surprised," said Uncle Wiggily, for most unexpectedly he had come upon Jingle and Jangle dipping Bunt. "You say you wanted to make Bunt into a bluebird?" he asked.

"Yes," answered Jingle. "So you would be happy."

"Because you were sad on account of losing the twinkle off your nose," added Jangle.

"Did you find it?" asked Bunt who was standing in a little puddle of blue water that dripped off her from the chicken feathers Jingle and Jangle had stuck on her with gum from a pine tree.

"No, I didn't exactly find my lost twinkle, that is not yet," said Mr. Longears. "But when I was coming through the woods a little while ago, I saw my twinkle on the path. Before I could get it a robin bird picked up the twinkle and flew away with it. I chased the flying bird and got here just as you dipped Bunt."

"I wish they hadn't made me a bluebird," said the little orphan rabbit, sort of shivering like. "Though if it makes you happy, Uncle Wig, I don't care," she said.

"First of all I want to thank you three bunnies for thinking so kindly of me as to want me to be happy," said Mr. Longears. "Next we must make Bunt comfortable and happy. Then we'll talk about the twinkle. I'm not very comfortable now, Uncle Wig," said shivering Bunt. "I'm all wet and sticky and I don't believe I look much like a bluebird, do I?"

"Not very much," laughed the rabbit gentleman. "But still Jingle and Jangle did their best. I must give them credit for that. Now then we'll make you feel better, Bunt. Help me pull these feathers off her," he told Jingle and Jangle.

It did not take long to pull the chicken feathers off the little orphan rabbit. Dipping her into the blue water, as Jingle and Jangle had done, had loosened them. When the foremost were off, Uncle Wiggily hopped into the bungalow and got a large towel in which he wrapped the little orphan bunny, patting her until she was warm, dry and cozy.

"Now you look like yourself, Bunt," he said, laughing a little.

"Yes, I feel better," said Bunt. "I guess," she added, "I would have been a funny bluebird."

"You would, indeed?" chuckled Mr. Longears. "But still, and with all that, my dears, you mean it for the best, and he looked at Jingle and Jangle, who were washing the blue off their paws where they had been splashed with the water as Bunt alighted and dropped into the tub."

"But what about your lost nose twinkle, Daddicus?" asked Jingle.

"Dipping you to be happy, even if you didn't find it, so the way we made Bunt into a happiness bluebird," said Jangle.

"Thank you, my dears!" spoke Mr. Longears. "It all happened so best. And, as I told you, I saw a robin bird pick up my nose twinkle in the woods and fly here with it. There he is now! cried the rabbit, pointing to a robin sitting in a tree over the tub of blue water. "Have you my lost twinkle, Robin?" called Uncle Wiggily.

"Why, no, I haven't," said the bird. "I saw you pick up something shining and glittering in the woods," went on Mr. Longears. "I was sure it was my lost twinkle."

"No, it was a piece of looking glass that glittered in the sun," said the Robin. "I got it so my wife might look at herself. See, here it is," and down out of the tree flew Robin with a piece of mirror which, indeed, did glitter brilliantly.

"Then it isn't your twinkle after all, Uncle Wig," said Bunt.

All of a sudden, Uncle Wiggily began to laugh. Oh, how hard he laughed. "Ho! Ho! Ho! Ha! Ha! Ha! Tee hee! Tee hee!"

He laughed as he had never laughed before when he thought how funny Bunt looked with dripping blue feathers stuck on her. And then, all at once Jingle cried:

"Why, Daddicus! There's the twinkle back on your nose!"

And there it was! Uncle Wiggily had found it. Or, rather, the jolly twinkle came back when he laughed so hard. He was happy again and so was everybody. The rabbits danced, the robins sang and all was well.

And if the wind will blow some fur off the pussy willow to make a soft collar for the neck of the milk bottle, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's whistle.

OUT OUR WAY

BORN THIRTY YEARS TOO SOON — SUNDAY.

Stars Ride Hobbies Of Many a Shade

By ROBERT GRANDON

Back from Los Angeles came Mrs. Bob. She other evening after a day's shopping . . . and shattering the family exchequer, by the way . . . with packages, C.O.D.'s and bills . . . and all agog over having met Janet Gaynor on her travels.

"I didn't recognize her at first," Mrs. Bob reported. "You see, she was wearing blue goggles . . . and did it change her appearance?"

But that is just one of Janet's little subtleties. She always hides behind the cheaters when she shops in Los Angeles or Hollywood, and since shopping is her hobby, she wears the disguise quite frequently. . . . Lily Damita is a shopping hound, too, but she goes forth without subterfuge. . . . her favorite haunts are bargain basements and ten-cent stores.

Joan Bennett is a flying fool, always hopping off to here or there. Maybe she'll quit now for Mrs. Gene Markey. Will Rogers goes in for flying and polo . . . and chews gum professionally. Spencer Tracy is a bowling fool, while Charlie Farrell gets a big kick out of sailing his racing schooner. . . . Elissa Landi cashes in on her hobby as does Louise Closser Hale. . . . Both of them write books.

JANET GAYNOR shops behind blue goggles

WARNER BAXTER hunts big game

Warner Baxter finds his great delight in hunting big game. . . . Along in this class are Jack Barrymore, Ronald Coleman, John Bowles and Victor McLaglen. The old prize ring spirit sticks to Vic, too, and you'll find him down by the ropes in the resin dust. . . . Maurice Chevalier and Bill Hart are fight enthusiasts and travel together to view them.

Minna Gombell likes hiking in the rain, and so does Gene Raymond. . . . looking over the list, they all go in for athletic stuff at that. . . . Any bargain sale battle is equal at least two quarters of a hard football game.

Hollywood is noted for its famous cooks. Send to Roberta Grandon, in care of this paper, for an illustrated leaflet, Favorite Recipes of Famous Stars. Enclose two cents in stamps with a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

CHURCH LEADER RETURNS HOME

Rev. W. G. Brown, moderator of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, passed through Victoria Tuesday on the liner Empress of Japan after a visit to missions in Manchuria and Formosa. He attended the diamond jubilee celebration of the mission in Formosa, which was established by the late Dr. George Leslie Mackay.

He reports the mission is meeting with much success, in spite of rather difficult times owing to various causes. Rev. Mr. Brown left Vancouver for the east to attend the gathering of the general assembly, which will be held the first week in June.

NICHOL WILL TEST UP HERE

B.C. Law Requiring One Succession Duty Payment Unfair, Lawyers Say

Death Levies Payable Out of Corpus of Estate, Not Income, Court Rules

To get a ruling on the allocation of succession duty charges as between capital and income against the various beneficiaries of the estate of the late Hon. W. C. Nichol, former Lieutenant-Governor of British Columbia, the Royal Trust Company, executors of the estate, yesterday as plaintiffs, brought up an application before Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald of the Supreme Court, with the beneficiaries named as defendants.

Named as defendants were Quila J. Nichol, John M. Nichol, Marquita P. C. Mainy, Helen Ward Nichol, John Lang Nichol and Daniel Nicholas Mainy.

Handling the argument for the Royal Trust were E. C. Mayers, K.C., and J. H. Lawson, J. K. MacRae and Matthew Van Roggen, both of Vancouver, represented the defendants.

The issue as set out in the summons was: "To determine in what manner, succession duties and probate duties paid in respect of the estate of the said deceased should be charged and apportioned by the plaintiff as between the respective defendants and what, if any, amount the defendants should be charged as against each of the defendants respectively, and generally in what manner the executor and trustee should charge such duties in the accounts of the said estate."

FAULTY LEGISLATION BLAMED

The lawyers said the difficulties had arisen because of the faults in the B.C. succession duties act.

"It is quite impossible to understand what principle, if any, the legislators went on," said Mr. Mayers.

The whole court smiled when at another stage of his argument Mr. Mayers said: "Whatever the government did was wrong. That is axiomatic."

Mr. Mayers argued that the act might speak of the various interests created by the testator, but taxes had to be paid out of the corpus of the property and only the persons who took an actual part of the corpus were liable for any part of the succession duty.

Mr. Mayers explained that if the succession duties were to be paid on the income, the life tenants receiving incomes for life would get no income for years while their annual share was going to pay off succession duty.

"One could hardly imagine a Legislature contemplating such a course," Mr. Mayers went on.

B.C. PROCEDURE UNREASONABLE

In arguing that the B.C. legislators really intended placing assessment for succession duties on the income from the estate, Mr. MacRae pointed out the "impossible" position of estates under the British Columbia law, where the succession duties have to be paid before probate is granted.

"In Ontario first payment of succession duties comes one year after probate, to be followed by three yearly payments, completing the total in four years," Mr. MacRae went on.

There are eight half-yearly payments. Here in British Columbia the act makes the succession duties payable all at once. This means that the trustees have to advance the money themselves, or use the money of the estate before they can get probate.

Mr. MacRae claimed the proportionate share of the succession duty must be imposed on the life interest. He declared that if such levy represented a hardship in such cases, consuming all the yearly income for some years, then the act should be amended. He said the income beneficiaries could restore their position by an insurance policy.

Basing his judgment largely on a decision he gave a few years ago in the similar case of the estate of the late Harry Bullen of the contention of Mr. Mayers that all the succession duty payments should come out of the corpus of the estate.

U.S. INVESTORS BUY CITY BONDS

Port Angeles and Seattle Residents Purchase Refunding Issue

Applications from two persons in the United States for parts of the city's $250,000 serial refunding bond issue reached City Treasurer Edwin C. Smith yesterday.

This was the first indication that investors other than those on the island are taking an interest in the city's "over-the-counter" sale-plan for the bonds and was regarded as indicative that the full issue will be disposed of within a short time.

A former British Columbian living in Port Angeles inquired regarding the $500 and $1,000 bonds included in the issue, indicating a desire to purchase.

From Seattle there was a direct application for $300 worth. The exchange rate makes the bonds an attractive investment for U.S. citizens.

To date approximately $75,000, or nearly 40 per cent of the issue has been sold and the demand has been maintained steadily.

FUNERAL IS HELD IN VANCOUVER

Funeral services were held in Vancouver on Monday afternoon for Major Norman Yearwood, M.M., who passed away suddenly in Victoria last Friday in his forty-first year. Rev. C. C. Owen officiated. At the graveside the "Last Post" was sounded and burial followed in the returned soldiers' plot, Mountain View Cemetery. The pallbearers were Major T. V. Scudamore, Major J. S. Penny, Capt. Collin Duncan, Major W. C. Crombie, Major A. C. McKay and Capt. W. Jones. Major Yearwood was for twenty-one years a member of the auditing department of the Canadian National Steamship office in Vancouver, and was recently transferred to the Victoria office of the company. His wife and two children survive.

PRINTERS NAME NEW OFFICERS

Officers of the Victoria Typographical Union No. 201, were elected yesterday. John Chow was chosen president and James D. Davidson, vice-president. Other officers were:

Secretary-treasurer, Ernest Shaw; executive committee, V. J. Baines, J. F. Hough and H. H. S. Walker; scale committee, J. D. Davidson, A. W. Stokes and V. J. Baines; laws committee, J. F. Hough and V. J. Baines; delegates to I.T.U. Convention, John Chow and J. D. Davidson; label committee, R. G. Carley, S. J. McDonald and W. H. Youhill; sick and relief committee, J. R. Begg, R. G. Carley, Arnold Johnson, F. H. Neelands and H. B. Sargison; examining board and apprentice committee, W. O. Clunk and P. J. Woodley; delegates to trades and labor council, W. D. Carley, W. Mason and R. Young; delegates to allied printing trades council, W. O. Clunk and P. J. Woodley; auditing committee, W. Anol, Arnold Johnson and J. S. Stewart; board of election, T. J. Liddell, E. A. Nichols and T. F. W. Nutt; typographical journal correspondent, J. A. Skellera; reading clerk, R. Young; sergeant-at-arms, Arnold Johnson.

Named as defendants were Quila J. Nichol, John M. Nichol, Marquita P. C. Mainy, Helen Ward Nichol, John Lang Nichol and Daniel Nicholas Mainy.

Handling the argument for the Royal Trust were E. C. Mayers, K.C., and J. H. Lawson, J. K. MacRae and Matthew Van Roggen, both of Vancouver, represented the defendants.

FIFTY START TO LIST VOTERS

Enumerators to Comb Victoria and Oak Bay For Every Eligible Name

Fifty enumerators under W. C. Winkel, chief commissioner, yesterday started out to sign up names for the new voters list.

Mr. Winkel said they would visit every building in Victoria and Oak Bay districts, covering them from roof to basement to make certain they get track of every possible voter.

Altogether, he said, it was expected his men would bring in the names of 25,000 fully qualified voters in this area. The work will take between two and three weeks. On the present listing, the necessary declaration has to be sworn to by each voter in the presence of one of the qualified enumerators, he explained. This, he said, does away with the former practice of leaving application sheets to be signed by possible voters and then turned in, without any proper declaration being made.

Mr. Winkel has opened his headquarters for the registration on the ground floor of the Sayward Building, Douglas Street.

B.C. VEGETABLE SALE TO DOUBLE

Prairies Will Buy Twice As Much This Year, Department of Agriculture Says

British Columbia sales of vegetables to the prairies will be doubled this year, it was anticipated in advice to the Department of Agriculture here to-day.

At Armstrong, four packing houses have installed the most modern machinery for packing and washing the vegetables for prairie shipment. All cars will be government inspected and all around-general inspection in production, packing and shipping facilities, as well as sales organization, will be made.

District agriculturists throughout the Okanagan, as well as markets commissioners, report good rains this week and crop conditions excellent.

Over a hundred acres of early head lettuce, twenty-five acres of late head lettuce, forty of asparagus, and 100 of celery have been planted this year, and the early variety of lettuce is now being packed, with carlots going to the prairies in June.

Okanagan growers are preparing to supply the market with celery the year round from storage, advice received to-day said.

Rowles's Boys' Band Will Be Assisted

A meeting was recently held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Evans, 1501 Fort Street, of parents interested in the Rowles's Boys' Band. The meeting was well attended by supporters of the young musicians, and after a brief discussion a committee was formed for the purpose of helping C. H. Rowles and relieving him of considerable details connected with the fast-growing band.

The committee elected was as follows: P. B. Wilson, chairman; P. E. George, secretary-treasurer; W. Gale, Mrs. R. S. Dalby, Mrs. E. Warburton and Mrs. M. A. Morris.

The ladies of the committee have arranged to hold a card party on Saturday evening next at 8 o'clock at the band headquarters, 1501 Fort Street. All those interested in the work of this young band are invited to attend. Through the efforts of a number of interested parents and friends the young musicians are being equipped with uniforms and other band accessories.

Brentwood

The Parent-Teacher Association of the Mount Newton High School staged a very successful concert and dance at the Institute Hall, Brentwood, on Saturday evening. The programme, arranged by C. Ozard, included selections by the Warrcliffe Trio, Fred Wright, Miss Dorothy M. Parsons, A. Edgar Kidd and Miss Audrey Wood. Refreshments were served under the convener-ship of Mrs. L. Thomson and Mrs. C. Butler.

Mrs. Grieve has returned to her home on Verdier Avenue after spending a holiday with friends in Victoria.

A bridge party, under the convener-ship of Mrs. W. Watt and Mrs. L. Thomson, will be held this evening at the Institute Hall, Brentwood.

Miss Diana Clayton has returned to St. Ann's Academy after spending the week-end with Miss Betty Brodhurst, Totem Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Dwyer and daughters, Muriel and Joyce, of Victoria were guests over the week-end of Mrs. Ryan, Verdier Avenue.

Mrs. W. Williamson of Vancouver is spending a holiday with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. T. Peden, Verdier Avenue.

Special to The Times
Ganges, May 26.—Mrs. J. Mouton on Friday evening placed her home at the disposal of the "Broadway" group of the C.G.I.T. of Fulford Harbor for the purpose of a surprise party in honor of Rev. and Mrs. William Allan and Miss Allan, who are leaving the island to make their home in Victoria. Mr. and Mrs. Allan were largely instrumental in forming and helping this group, and it was felt that appreciation should be shown in some tangible form.

Miss Stanbridge indicated the reason for the meeting and the hostess, Mrs. Mouton, presented Mr. and Mrs. Allan with a pair of beautiful cut glass knife rests and Miss Allan with a cut glass vase. Music and singing followed and the members of the group then formed an arch, under which the guests of honor passed to the dining-room.

The cake, which formed the centerpiece, was inscribed with "Best Wishes From the C.G.I.T."

Among those present were: Rev. and Mrs. Allan, Miss Annie Allan, Mrs. J. Mouton, Miss Stanbridge, Miss M. Mouton, Mrs. McLennan, Mrs. C. Wakelin, Mrs. H. Nobbs and Miss M. Nobbs, Mrs. R. Daykin, Mrs. J. Cairns, Mrs. M. Oryes, Misses P. McLennan, Phyllis, Doris and Valerie Oryes, Cora Daykin, Lorraine Wakelin, Jessie Nobbs, Agnes Cairns and others.

Ala Moana Charges Removed From Trial Calendar

Associated Press
Honolulu, May 26.—The Ala Moana assault case, which came to a climax with the lynching of a young Hawaiian and the subsequent conviction of four persons charged with his slaying, was off the territory trial calendar to-day.

The second trial of four youths charged with attacking Mrs. Thalia Masie, wife of a naval lieutenant, was removed from the trial calendar yesterday on motion of Prosecutor John G. Kelley. A date will be selected. The first trial ended in a jury disagreement.

William H. Heen and William B. Pittman, attorneys for the four youths, announced their withdrawal from the case yesterday saying their fees had not been assured. Both said they would re-enter the case should their fees be assured.

Is Voted By The Senate

Ottawa, May 26.—The government bill in respect to radio broadcasting was given third reading in the Senate yesterday. While some criticism was forthcoming, the discussion was not protracted. In answer to questions Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, government leader, stated one member of the commission of three, would be in charge of administering the act, would be a French-Canadian.

Senator Dandurand, Liberal leader, commended the form of the bill which set in motion a radio organization, but with tentative powers. The commission would work out a scheme in conformity with conditions.

Senator Rodolphe Lemieux supported the proposal as a means of education. He did not think it would entail any heavy financial obligation. He asked for an assurance that both languages would be used in programmes in accordance with the right given to the minority under the constitution. If this were done, French-Canadians would support the scheme.

He had no hesitation in giving such an assurance, said Mr. Meighen. The minister in charge was a French-Canadian, and there would be a French-Canadian representative on the commission. Senator A. D. McRae said the radio broadcasting scheme was starting in a small way, except in salaries. It had been rumored a member of the commission would be brought from England. He opposed that, as he thought it was time for Canadians to run their own affairs. There were a number of Canadians quite capable of doing this, and without the big salaries that were proposed.

NANAIMO HAD
FINE PARADEMiss Dorothy Whittingham
Crowned May Queen; Whippet Races and Sports

Special to The Times
Nanaimo, May 26.—The celebration held here Tuesday was one of the best ever held in the city. Thousands lined the streets to watch the most spectacular parade seen here. Many visitors were present from all parts of the island and the mainland. The day's proceedings commenced with the children's sports, some very close races being witnessed. This was followed by the crowning of the May Queen, Miss Dorothy Whittingham. The Central Sports grounds were filled for this event. The May Queen looked charming and was escorted by Mayor John Barby and a bevy of attendants. The mayor read the address of welcome and outlined the objects of the commemoration of Empire Day. Following the crowning ceremony, the crowds flocked to the waterfront, where exciting Indian canoe races were held, with teams competing from the various tribes of British Columbia. During one of the races one of the canoes capsized and the occupants were rescued from the chilly waters by the committee launch. The race was won by the (St. Michael) Sechelt Indians, with the Valdes Island team second and Sechelt third. The parade was held at 12:30 p.m. There was a record number of floats and the entries of the school groups totaled twenty-four. A new innovation for the sports committee was the Whippet racing in the afternoon, which attracted hundreds. One of the outstanding features was the handicap race between the fastest Whippet and Nanaimo's fastest sprinter, Frank English. English winning a very close race. In the evening an international soccer match was held between Nanaimo City, British Columbia champions, and Black Diamond, champions of Washington, the locals winning a hard game 2 goals to 1. The official dance was held in the evening in the Fygnay Hall.

Alex. Matthewson
Dies at Nanaimo

Special to The Times
Nanaimo, May 26.—Alex. Matthewson, ninety-two, passed away in the local hospital yesterday evening. He was a native of New Boston, Cape Breton, and had resided here forty-five years. He was an active member in church work and also a member of the Orange Lodge, being survived by two sons, Frederick, Cape Breton, and Alexander, Vancouver. Funeral arrangements are pending.

CAPITOL HAS
JOAN BENNETTPopular Blonde Actress Has Leading Role in "She Wanted a Millionaire"Spencer Tracy, Una Merkel and James Kirkwood Lend
Excellent Support

As an example of the variety of accomplishments necessary for a starring career in pictures, Joan Bennett's role in "She Wanted a Millionaire," Fox production now being shown at the Capitol Theatre, serves perfectly.

Miss Bennett is first shown as a factory worker, filming of which called for her to actually operate one of the large weaving machines in the Goodyear plant at Los Angeles. In the later scenes of the picture she is shown swimming, dancing, appearing as a contestant in two different beauty contests, singing and riding.

It was while filming the riding scene, in which Joan is seen with her riding master in a Parisian park, that she was thrown from the unfurling horse, resulting in the painful accident that kept her near death in a Los Angeles hospital for weeks. After her complete recovery, when work had started once more on the picture, Joan bravely mounted the horse again and rode fearlessly in front of the hooded cameras that had caused the animal to become unmanageable.

Spencer Tracy, who is co-featured as the youthful sweetheart whose love finally prevails over Joan's determination to have none but a millionaire husband, also is seen as a resourceful young man.

FAIRBANKS JR.
AT COLUMBIA

Alfred E. Green, famous director whose work on "It's Tough to Be Famous," the first National Picture starring Douglas Fairbanks Jr., now at Columbia, has added further to his fame as one of Hollywood's top flight directors, was Mary Pickford's megaphone man at one time and directed George Arliss' memorable screen success, "Diarrhea."

Green has since been sought by Miss Pickford but conflict of engagements prevented his work on any of her later pictures. His most recent success previous to "It's Tough to Be Famous" was "Union Depot," in which Douglas Fairbanks Jr. also starred.

There is the possibility that Green may yet direct a Mary Pickford vehicle, should the overture the star has already made to the director through young Doug, bear fruit.

POLA NEGRI TO PLAY AT EMPIRE

Another name appears in the illustrious cast of players who surround Pola Negri in her first RKO-Radio "Gang" picture, "The Sign of the Cross," which is coming to the Empire Theatre Saturday. Anthony Bushell, popular stage and screen actor, plays an important role.

This young Englishman, has made rapid strides in his comparatively short career. On being graduated from Oxford he entered the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art in London, and while playing Hamlet in a student performance was seen by Sir Gerland De Matur and engaged for his production of "Diplomacy."

After that he went to New York and while playing on the stage there was recommended to George Arliss by Dudley Digges for a role in "Diarrhea."

ROMANO SHOWS
MYSTERY PLAY

"Charlie Chan's Chance," Fox mystery drama based on one of Earl Derr Biggers' novels, which opened an engagement of three days at the Romano Theatre to-day, is a most interesting picture splendidly acted by a cast of extraordinary merit. It is intelligently directed.

Warner Oland enacts the role of Charlie Chan, the Oriental detective, who solves an enigmatic crime. He gives a flawless performance, and Alexander Kirkwood, one of the chief suspects in the mystery, wins more than his share of honors.

Others deserving mention for capable work are H. B. Warren, Marian Nixon, James Kirkwood, Linda Watkins and Ralph Morgan.

John G. Blystone directed the picture.

DOMINION THEATRE

A British-made picture, "Michael and Mary," is now showing at the Dominion Theatre.

"Michael and Mary—Their Secret," comes with the reputation of being the best picture ever to come out of England. With all these advantages, it certainly should merit attention.

"Michael and Mary" is by A. A. Milne, the author of "The Perfect Alibi," "The Dover Road," "Mr. Pim Passes By," "Give Me Yesterday," and a score others. As a novelist, he is world famous as the author of "Winnie the Pooh" and "When We Were Very Young." "Two People," his latest book, is one of this season's best sellers.

DOUBLE BILL
AT PLAYHOUSERichard Arlen and Jack Holt star in Zane Grey's "The Border Legion," at the Playhouse.

"The Border Legion" is Zane Grey at his best. It has swift, breath-taking action; hard riding; shooting from the hip and romance that brings a lump into the throat and tears to the eyes. There is great suspense as Arlen, Holt and Stanley Field face each other with guns in their hands and fight it out, man to man, for the love of Fay Wray. There is comedy with that droll character of the S. Van Dine murder mysteries and "The Virginian," Eugene Pallette, leading the fun.

Also on the same bill is Jack Oakie in "The Gang Buster."

RECALLS REL REBELLION DAYS

Howard A. Kennedy Describes His Experiences With Indians of That Time

Howard Angus Kennedy, national secretary of the Canadian Authors' Association, was the guest of honor at an open meeting of the Victoria and Islands branch held yesterday evening in Amphion Hall, Donald A. Fraser presiding.

Mr. Kennedy gave a delightful account of his "Adventures among the Indians," with a brief sketch of the early explorations and colonization of this continent.

His discourse was illustrated with a series of fine pictures shown by Major F. V. Longstaffe. The old fur party bringing contraband liquor across the border and selling it to the Indians, and other incidents leading to the outbreak of the rebellion of 1864.

Mr. Kennedy depicted the lack of tact and understanding sympathy in governing circles which might easily have averted that campaign, during which, as correspondents for the Montreal Witness and the New York Herald, he had followed the troops throughout the various engagements. He paid a warm tribute to Chief Poundmaker, who opposed his Indians in their rebellion against the authorities of the country, but the influence of Louis Riel and his agents had undermined his control over them.

Many veterans of the campaign of 1865 were in the audience and listened with interest to Mr. Kennedy's review. Rev. J. P. Hicks and Mrs. Ebsen-Cavan moved the vote of thanks to Mr. Kennedy.

An exhibition of Mr. Kennedy's "petit point" tapestries, ingenious in design and coloring, and depicting chiefly scenes from Canadian history, was shown and called forth much praise, both for the artistry of the designs and the lovely color combinations.

CHAMBER HEARS TAX COMPLAINT

Complaints of over-taxation of oyster beds at Ladysmith are being investigated by a special committee of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce.

The committee consists of H. H. R. Rev. president of the chamber; Reginald Hayward, M.P.P.; J. H. Beatty, M.P.P.; C. F. Goodrich and H. C. Holmes, chairman.

The committee this morning was informed the Provincial Department of Lands imposes a tax of $5 an acre on the oyster beds of Ladysmith, the tax on Mainland and West Coast beds being $1 an acre. The committee adjourned to permit of collection of material and explanations of the differences.

The public works committee of the City Council will meet as usual at 2:30 o'clock to-morrow afternoon with Alderman John Worthington, acting as chairman in the absence of the mayor.

Investigation of a series of wood thefts from Todd's yard on the Industrial Reserve was commenced by the police to-day, following a report from the proprietor. A truck was reported seen loading wood there early yesterday morning.

The heavy rains during the winter proved a boon to forests according to protection officials, who report but little forest fire this year, compared with 463 at this time a year ago. Moisture conditions are excellent, and the situation throughout the province is satisfactory, state forestry officials.

Andrew C. Hill, steward of the Colwood Park Club, appeared in the Provincial Police Court yesterday to face a charge of permitting liquor to be consumed on the premises on Sunday, as a result of a police visit to the club last week-end. The case was returned until next Tuesday afternoon.

June 1 is the date set for W. F. Kennedy to take over complete charge of the Liquor Control Board, it was announced yesterday by Acting Premier Pooley. Since the board's year does not end until July 31, the retirement of Henry B. Thomson, the present chairman, and W. J. Baird, Vancouver, will date from August 1.

Offers to supply labor necessary to replace rotted school fences at Tolmie and Tillicum schools were yesterday evening submitted to the Saanich School Board by owners of property abutting the respective school grounds. The board was asked to supply the material. The proposals were referred to the works committee for report, in view of the small amount of money available this year for repairs.

Oak Bay Conservative Association will hear the four Victoria members of the Legislature at a meeting in St. Mary's Hall at 8 o'clock to-morrow night. Reginald Hayward will discuss events of the last session of the Legislature. Hon. Joshua Hinchcliffe will deal with educational matters. James H. Beatty will talk on "Treasury Control." H. Despard Twigg will speak on the work of the select committee on unemployment, of which he was chairman.

The final meeting of the C.G.I.E. and the Tuxis Trail Rangers and Explorers groups will be held Friday afternoon in the schoolroom of Metropolitan Church. An open invitation is extended to the meeting, the programme of which will be presented by the boys and girls. It will include songs, a short speech and other items of interest. All attending are asked to bring, if possible, anything suitable for the girls who are preparing for the Women's Workroom.

The pl gang case involving a suit charged by Pang Mock against Ling Chong has been brought to a close by Judge J. Charles McIntosh rendering judgment dismissing the suit. The plaintiff overstepped the bounds of propriety when he swore he did not know anything about the game of pl gang, one of the commonest forms of gambling of Chinese, said the judge in his judgment.

Direct relief accounts with the Ottawa government for 1931 were adjusted satisfactorily, it was stated at the Parliament Buildings to-day. This province will receive $2,400,000 from the Dominion in full settlement of existing claims. The figures are high and direct relief accounts. Indications point to little new work being undertaken this year. Decision on the land settlement scheme, which is now being expected from Ottawa in the course of a few days.

An opportunity for Vancouver Island firms to establish connections in India, Ceylon and Burma is reported by Cecil French, who has received inquiries from his agents in India regarding canned and other goods produced on Vancouver Island. He is drawing attention to the inquiry in the hope that firms interested will take the opportunity to ship their shipments on a boat sailing direct to India from Vancouver June 7.

VICTORIA SHIPS TOMATOES EAST

Hothouse Men Find Market Widened By New Dump Duty

Local tomato growers have telegraphed Premier Tolmie at Ottawa their appreciation of the early protection afforded them by the imposition of three cents a pound on tomatoes fixed by Ottawa yesterday. It comes at a time when the crop is at its peak. Victoria hothouse men commenced to ship car lots to Montreal and Toronto to-day. The prairie and domestic markets are being supplied at no advance in prices.

While in the east, Premier Tolmie took up the matter with federal ministers and also the secretary of the Canadian Horticultural Association, with the result that the date of import was advanced, to the material benefit of British Columbia greenhouse men.

In previous years the import has been restricted to California shipments to compete with British Columbia growers during their peak season.

HIGH PRAISE FOR ELEVATOR

E. B. Ramsay, Grain Commissioner, Says Ogden Point Plant Among Best in Country

A. J. Gibson of Regina Brings News of Grain Above Ground on Prairies

"You have here a modern plant and one of the best equipped for its size in the country," said Edward B. Ramsay of Winnipeg, chief commissioner of the Board of Grain Commissioners of Canada, after inspecting the grain elevator at Ogden Point. "There may be larger elevators but none are more efficiently equipped for the handling of grain," he continued.

Mr. Ramsay has been looking into weighing conditions at the local elevator and completed his investigations yesterday after an all-day conference with officials of the Alberta Wheat Pool, lessees of the Ogden Point plant.

The chief commissioner was accompanied here by S. M. Capon, his confere, and W. H. Blatchford of Calgary, assistant commissioner for Alberta. R. D. Purdy, general manager of the Alberta Wheat Pool, attended the conference here, and showed the commissioners over the elevator.

"The whole matter has been satisfactorily adjusted," said Mr. Ramsay with reference to the conference that took place yesterday in the Empress Hotel in respect to grain weights at the local plant.

"It was merely a question of average scale which will be immediately remedied," he said.

GRAIN SHOWING

A. J. Gibson, Regina, director of the Panama Grain Terminals Ltd., and prominently identified with the establishment of the grain elevator here, is at the Empress Hotel to-day on private business.

"Crop prospects could not look any better on the prairies," he said. "They are ideal and the farmers are anticipating a bumper harvest. Although it is early to give an estimate on bushels."

"On my way west I noticed the grain peeping through the ground, the height of six inches, and although there is no subsoil moisture, there has been plenty of surface moisture. The prospects appear to be excellent all over the prairie country and the farmers are optimistic."

Regina, Mr. Gibson said, is preparing for its great World's Grain Fair next year. He said most of the fair buildings had been completed and interest all over the country was being directed towards the exhibition.

WILLIAM GALT DIES SUDDENLY

Well-known Resident Succumbs After Operation; Here Many Years

William Galt, 2086 Chaucer Street, a well-known resident of Victoria for many years, passed away suddenly at the Jubilee Hospital yesterday evening, following an operation performed yesterday morning.

Born in Scotland seventy-one years ago, Mr. Galt played international football for Scotland for some years, and until his death took a keen interest in the sport. In 1908 he held a position with the Victoria Machinery Depot, but left that firm to accept a position as storekeeper with the city, later being appointed city purchasing agent, a post he held from 1912 until 1918.

After leaving the employ of the city he became secretary of the Elks' Club and later received an appointment with the British Columbia Liquor Control Board, being employed at the Johnson Street branch. He was to have been superannuated from the service when death intervened.

For many years Mr. Galt sang in the choir of St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay. He was also a member of Victoria Columbia Lodge No. 1, F.F. & A.M.

Funeral services will be held on Saturday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock from Howard's B.C. Funeral Chapel, proceeding to St. Mary's Church for interment.

Fresh from sensational victories in their own school sports, Victoria High, Brentwood College and Saanich High stars are expected to furnish exceptionally good performances in the inter-high track and field meet at the Victoria High grounds to-morrow afternoon. The first event is scheduled to start at 3.15 o'clock. The entry list, released to-day, includes the names of all the outstanding boys in the three schools and promises competition of an unusually high calibre.

THEORIST JANE SHOWS CLASS

Takes Feature Event at Colwood, Beating Two Favorites

Mudders Lead the Way on Sloppy Track; Prices Are Small

Mudders had their day at Colwood track yesterday and made a gala event of it. Practically every race was won by a decisive margin and the prices generally were not particularly good, no returns running into double figures.

Jockey Henson, who has shown the way to the other boys in the number of winners so far, piloted home the double, which paid off at $9.50.

The main event of the day, over the mile and seven-hundred yards route, was won by Mrs. M. S. Theorist Jane in a mid-upset. It was Henson's third win of the day. Theorist Jane jumped into the lead at the first turn and was well-riding in making the pace to win comfortably. The betting was third and Harry H. Bell third. The winner paid $2.50.

Joe de Ford, riding Lady Han for the stable, finished the opening of the season in the second place, but when he took the opening event at six furlongs handsly. She opened up a good lead in the stretch and was not endangered. The betting was the place and Calgary Jubilee was third.

FINE RIDE
Henson rode a fine race with Wicki-wack in the second place, but when he took the opening event at six furlongs handsly. She opened up a good lead in the stretch and was not endangered. The betting was the place and Calgary Jubilee was third.

Taking the lead on the rail as the gate went, Terry was never headed. Theorist Jane, who was in the stretch, tried hard to catch him in the stretch. Royal Mate, running an even race, finished in the show slot.

Tom Dill revealed in the going when he hit the stretch in the fourth at five and one-half furlongs, and related a closing bid from J. Hunt's Bright Coin, an outsider, which finished second.

Star Chitrent, with Mikes aboard, was in the stretch, tried hard to catch him in the stretch. Royal Mate, running an even race, finished in the show slot.

Just lasting to bid off Swift, Cop's stout run up the stretch, Bixtra, on odds on favorite, ridden by La Boyne, won the fifth after opening up a big lead. Swift Cop was overhauling him fast coming up the wire, but was a bit short in the five furlongs. Paul Hirsten was third.

Silk Train made every post a winner in the sixth, Carter taking her to the top at the break and winning as he pleased. Fullerton's Greenleaf Chase, ridden with all his speed through the home stretch, but was never close. Henson got a third with Gold Caps.

STOCK CLOSING BID
Just lasting to bid off Swift, Cop's stout run up the stretch, Bixtra, on odds on favorite, ridden by La Boyne, won the fifth after opening up a big lead. Swift Cop was overhauling him fast coming up the wire, but was a bit short in the five furlongs. Paul Hirsten was third.

Outside the sun was shining brightly after a dismal and cold morning. It was 1 o'clock when Gehrig had entered the court room. The clock pointed to 1.30. Then 2 o'clock. "Columbus Lou" fidgeted with a piece of paper. He squirmed in his seat. His mother whispered reassuringly. Now it was after 2 o'clock and the game was scheduled way up town at 3.15. Some-one tripped over to Lou, whispered something in his ear. Lou grinned. The game had been called off. He was content to remain in the court room all day if need be.

The mistake was that of Ed Barrow, Yankee baseball manager, who had made precious few of them. When the sun had failed to come out in the early afternoon he called off the game. Within a short time clouds rolled away, the temperature arose. It was a summer-like afternoon.

But Gehrig didn't mind. The good, old record was intact.

Great interest will centre around the century dash this year. Joe Addison, who cracked the Victoria High 110-yard record set by Chuck Copeland some years ago, when he covered the stretch in ten and one-fifth seconds, will be out to retain the sprint laurels he captured in the inter-high meet last year. Against him will be the young Saanich sensation, Noel Morgan, who won the high school honors of his municipality on a grass track in time one-fifth of a second slower than Addison did last week.

Terry Todd, senior sprint champion of Brentwood, credited with ten and two-fifths for the hundred, will be in the fray for the Tod Inlet lads.

R. Surphie, Victoria High, and McCaffrey H. Brentwood, are second choice men for the event. Saanich will only run one entry.

FAVORED FOR FURLONG
Addison will also fly the black and gold colors in the furlong, along with Bill Thompson. Todd and McCaffrey are listed as the Brentwood entries, and Owen Bentley the Saanich hope.

On this record, Addison is expected to show the way in both sprints, but will have to run fast stretches to overcome his promising rivals.

In what is expected to be one of the best battles of the day, the three schools will clash in the quarter mile. Fraser Mitchell, Brentwood, looks good for the distance, but will be up against stiff competition in Noel Morgan and D. Cummins of Saanich and "Muzz" Patrick, rangy Victoria High champion and Bill Thompson, of the same school. Hyde is slated as the other Brentwood entry.

The same pair will be a formidable threat for the Tod Inlet boys in the half mile in which Patrick is figured the favorite. Alex Gault, also of Victoria High, will have to be reckoned with at that distance, while Owen Bentley and W. Foulds of Saanich should not be overlooked.

SHOULD WIN HIGH JUMP
Art Chapman, rangy champion of Victoria High last year, is an outstanding contender for the 120-yard hurdle. The other black-and-gold contender in this event will be R. Waters, Cooper and Horgan, the latter being a good entry last year. Will carry Brentwood's colors in the race in which young Mike Ott will represent Saanich.

Unless the most unexpected happens, Chapman should walk off with the high jump for Victoria High School. D. Crawford for Victoria High School, D. Crawford for Victoria High School, D. Crawford for Victoria High School.

The mile medley relay is again expected to be one of the most keenly contested fixtures on the programme. Theorist Jane, who was in the stretch, tried hard to catch him in the stretch. Royal Mate, running an even race, finished in the show slot.

Women Golf Stars Will Commence Play For British Open

Leading British and U.S. Players Tee Off in Thirty-six-hole Qualifying Round To-morrow at Saunton Sands; British Hopes Rest on Enid Wilson, Present Champion, and Diana Fishwick; Joyce Wethered Will Not Be Competitor

Saunton, North Devonshire, May 26—Saunton Sands, where luminaries of Britain's golfing contingent will start play to-morrow in the thirty-six-hole qualifying round of the women's open golf championship, is one of the most isolated spots in goldforn.

Ride a train due west from London, through Bristol or Bath, Veer left through North Devon until you are about to fall into the Atlantic, and there is Saunton.

Saunton is not as long and punishing as other layouts on the British championship rota, but it is the same general type of linksland. It measures 6,603 yards and carries a par at 74. There are thrills aplenty with the long shots from pulpit-tees over ranges of sandhills or through valleys of curving fairways.

In the absence of Joyce Wethered, captain of the British team in last week's international matches and generally regarded as the peer of all women golfers, an outsider is conceded a great chance of winning the title.

WILL DEFEND TITLE
With Miss Wethered's failure to enter, the burden of Britain's hopes rest on Enid Wilson, present champion, and Diana Fishwick, winner in 1929. Both played fine golf in the international test. There are several other women, however, capable of a victory if things break right.

Sixty-four will qualify in the preliminary rounds to-morrow and Saturday, with match play due to start Monday. It will be the first time a qualifying round has been held for the tournament. Nearly all the United States stars now here have entered.

Island Indians In Coupeville Regatta

The Coupeville, Wash. Chamber of Commerce, has set July 29, 30 and 31 the three days for the third annual Coupeville water festival, and is going ahead with plans for a more pretentious festival than was staged last year.

The Seattle Outboard Association will again hold a handicap marathon on the Ballard blinners to Coupeville and a regatta for all classes here on July 31.

Indications are that Indians are taking more interest in the races ever in this year's international championship water canoe race. Spectators this year can expect at least fifteen canoes in the races for the challenge trophy.

ISLAND INDIANS ENTER
British Columbia tribes who have signified their intentions of entering two or more canoes in the races are West Saanich, last year's international champions, Squamish, Malahat, Cobble Hill, Vancouver and Cowichan. American Indians taking the races are the Lumbee, Swinowish and Tulalip, 1930 champions.

Walker Favorite To Win To-night

New York, May 26.—Although he will be forced to concede some twenty-five pounds in weight and six inches in height, Mickey Walker, the modern giant-killer, has been established a 7 to 5 favorite in his ten-round bout with Pauline Zazu to-night at Madison Square Garden.

For Walker, the bout means a possible chance against Ernie Schaaf, Boston heavyweight, with a winner to challenge next for the heavy-weight title. For Pauline it means only a chance to upset another ambitious young man, one of the best things he does.

CRICKET DRAW IS RELEASED

Midweek Teams Have Five Matches Apiece in First Half of Payne Series

With the season's opening matches behind them, teams in the Wednesday Cricket League have five matches apiece before them in the first half of the Payne Cup series, according to the schedule released to-day.

No games were played this week owing to the fact the stores did not have a holiday on Wednesday. The series will be resumed on June 1 with the Hudson's Bay, last year champions and winners of one of the opening games, meeting the new entry, Victoria. Saunich will take the field against Five C's, the other victors in the first day's play.

Keen matches are expected throughout the season. According to reports, mid-week teams of 1931 have been considerably strengthened for this year's play and a closer race for the coveted Payne trophy is expected.

SCHEDULE
The first half schedule for the Payne Cup follows, with the first-mentioned team being the home club:
June 1—Hudson's Bay vs. Victoria;
June 8—Saanich vs. Victoria; Five C's vs. Hudson's Bay;
June 15—Victoria vs. Five C's; Hudson's Bay vs. Saunich;
June 22—Victoria vs. Saunich; Hudson's Bay vs. Five C's;
June 29—Victoria vs. Saunich; Hudson's Bay vs. Five C's.

Seventeen Horses Eligible For Oaks

London, May 26.—Seventeen horses remained in the Oaks, fourth classic of the flat racing season, which will be run at Epsom on June 3, when final acceptances were posted yesterday.

The race at about one and one-half miles for three-year-old fillies last year was worth approximately $40,000. Those left were: Lord Astor's Solist, A. Berry's Barrette, W. Barnett's Centeno, A. Fox's Concordia, T. Davidson's Solvita, Lord Derby's Grudeco, Lord Glanville's Ada Dear, J. Gray's Sundergain, Lord Howard de Walton's Ortygia, H. H. Aga Khan's Daulpur, Lord Roseberry's Messalina, Mrs. P. Sneyd's Jeanie, Wetherill's Kiddle, Lord Woolavington's Pickle and Will o' the Wisp, and Lady Yule's Golden Pomona.

Grimes's Ancient Arm Holds Cards To Seven Bingles

Veteran Spitballer Twirls Chicago Cubs to 3-to-0 Victory Over Former Team-mates; Grimes's Third Victory in Four Starts; Bobby Brown, Boston's Sensational Youngster, Sets Back Brooklyn 4 to 2; Giants Win Hard-hitting Game From Philadelphia; Rain Halts American League Games

Burleigh Grimes admitted from the witness chair only three days ago that he was just about "washed up" as a big-league pitcher, but he would never have gotten away with it had St. Louis Cardinals been sitting in judgment.

The Red Birds were ready to swear to-day that the thirty-eight-year-old spitballer still has plenty of juice left in his aged right arm. They had proof that Burleigh still can toss a vindictive curve when he feels in the mood. Yesterday the Birds encountered their former teammate for the first time since he helped pitch them to a world championship last October.

Toiling for the Chicago Cubs, he set his old comrades down with seven scattered hits and shut them out 3 to 0, which was not at all bad for a semi-invalid. It was Grimes's fourth start for the Cubs and his third victory.

Bobby Brown, the twenty-year-old sensation from Binghamton, kept Boston Braves at the head of the league by defeating Brooklyn, 4 to 2, on four hits. The youngster who began his big-league career by beating Dazzy Vance in a mound duel a month ago was invincible in all but two innings.

GIANTS WIN HITTING BEE
For the third straight day the New York Giants and Phillies engaged in an old-fashioned slugfest, and the Giants made it two out of three for the series by winning, 12 to 8. Bill Terry led the slugfest, knocking in four runs with his tenth home run of the year.

Fumbles by Heath and Hafey helped Pittsburgh score a second game-winning and eventually trim Cleveland, 9 to 4, for the second straight day.

Only two games were scheduled in the American League. One at Chicago was rained out completely and the other, at Detroit, was washed away in the fourth inning with St. Louis Browns ahead, 1 to 0. It was no contest.

THREE TEAMS IN DEADLOCK

Newark, Baltimore and Montreal in Virtual Tie For International Ball Lead

Baltimore Takes Third Straight From Newark; Rally in Ninth Wins For Montreal

The International League to-day was very close to that great state from the box office point of view at least—where all the teams are first and drawing first-place crowds.

All of the clubs were not in the lead, or even in the fight, but three were locked in a virtual tie for first place, two of them absolutely tied, and other was only a half game behind after being rained out of a chance to get into the thick of the battle, and the first-place Rochester Red Wings were only two games below the top.

Baltimore Orioles were the principal factors in tying up the league race in the highest knot so far and in depriving Newark's Bears of their undisturbed lead. The Orioles' victory in the third straight game from the Bears, 7 to 6, to draw up into a first-place tie, each with twenty-three victories and fourteen defeats.

MONTREAL WELL UP
Montreal, which downed the champion Rochester Red Wings for the third time in a row, also by a 7 to 6 count, was tied in the column and lost reckonings but a few points behind in the percentages. The Royals have won twenty-five games and lost sixteen. Buffalo, rained out at Toronto, had the same number of victories as Newark, and Baltimore but one more defeat.

Baltimore and Newark slugged it out on home ground, with a triple by Jordan and McTowin's fly brought in the Orioles' winning run in the eighth.

Montreal and Rochester concentrated the thrills of the first game in the ninth inning. In the tight game of the frame George Pucinelli walked off his fourteen-hundredth homer of the season with two on base to give the Red Wings the lead. But Thomas promptly belted one past the boundary to tie it up again and Ripple tripped and scored the winning run on an infield play.

The last two clubs in the standing, Jersey City and Reading, divided a pair of close games. Jersey's Shavers took the first 5 to 4, but Reading came back to win the second, 4 to 3.

Prices Edge Lower In Unusually Bull Winnipeg Session

Winnipeg, May 26.—Reflecting the weakness displayed by stocks, wheat prices edged lower in featureless trade here today. In one of the quietest sessions in weeks, wheat closed 1/2 to 1/4 lower for the day.

May declined 1/4 to 63 1/2; July and October each dropped 1/4 to 64 and 66 1/2 respectively.

Trade worked for export was a minus quantity.

Opening fractionally lower, the local market early took its cue from Chicago and in featureless trade receded to close at the low points. Weakness at Chicago was attributed to a weakness in the securities market. The anticipated improvement in the winter wheat crop was being discounted as a market factor.

Broomhall reports that the outlook of the crop in India and scarcity of wheat stocks in France and other parts of Europe augurs well for future export from North America.

Cash wheat and coarse grains generally were unchanged in uninteresting trade.

To-day's Grain Markets

WINNIPEG

(By Logan & Bryan)

Winnipeg, May 26.—Wheat: With a more or less weather map this morning showing general rains or showers over winter wheat and spring wheat territory in the United States and parts of the Canadian west, particularly southern areas, gave the wheat market an easier tone to-day, and prices were lower throughout.

On the extreme west, Winnipeg prices were about 1 cent lower, while Chicago broke 1/2 to 2 cents. The local market was helped by a good class of buying for export account, sales overnight being estimated at around 400,000 bushels, while some further business was done on the break to-day.

There was some selling by commission houses by Chicago, and locals were unloading based on the precipitation and weakness in Chicago, while the stock market was again very weak during the first period. Undoubtedly there is some export business working every day, but it is not as large as might be hoped for. It is said that stocks in eastern position have now been pretty well cleaned up, and with a moderately better demand for our wheat during the next two months, should mean a larger movement from the head of the lakes, which would be more directly reflected in the market.

The weather is decidedly cooler over large areas of the North American wheat belt, and frost is reported to be due to-night in many localities with the weather becoming a little warmer to-morrow. In the cash market, with just cold changing hands, spreads were 1/2 to 1/4 better. Snow was reported to-day from a few points in spring wheat territory.

Winnipeg futures closed 1/2 to 1/4 lower.

Coarse grains: These markets were extremely quiet again to-day with no export business confirmed and nothing of feature going on. There was very little pressure, but the lower trend of the leading cereal was reflected in the coarse grains to some extent. Flax was dull and featureless with a lower trend and some liquidation going on by tired holders. Closing prices 1/4 to 1/2 lower. Livestock due 1/4 higher, based on Winnipeg.

CHICAGO

(By Logan & Bryan)

Chicago, May 26.—Wheat: The market during early trade reflected lack of reserve buying power with prices receding nearly two cents from yesterday's close. However, good support developed in late trading with wheat closing over one cent. Crop news continues bullish with usually conservative southern interest estimates at Kansas at 74,000,000, Texas 26,000,000, Nebraska 15,000,000, or a total of 146,000,000.

Rains are not believed to have altered the winter wheat prospects a great deal, although it will undoubtedly help some doubtful grain. Close observers of the winter wheat situation are convinced there will be much more than the usual amount of damage from Hessian fly, and reports of the infestation of wheat by this pest are coming from a wide territory, with Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and Missouri sending bad reports.

Foreign news was mixed. There were no shipments from Russia again. The spring wheat areas received pretty general precipitation, but it was extremely light in many sections. The general outlook is for good buying on breaks.

SEES ROUTE VIA CANADA

Service From U.S. to Europe, Over Canada, Less Than Three Years Away

Rugby, N.D., May 26. — Daily commercial air travel between the United States and Europe over a Canadian route is less than three years away, says Judge Gudmund Grimsom of Rugby.

He has just returned from Iceland, where he carried on negotiations for a line of interest, which he said, would be a forty-eight-hour flight between Detroit and Copenhagen, Denmark.

Judge Grimsom obtained from Iceland a franchise for establishment of an air base in that country and permission to carry on transportation of persons, mail and property over the route between that and other countries. He said he negotiated with officials of the Danish Government and obtained permission to begin surveys and experiments over Greenland.

Next year, he said, it is planned to build bases, stage experimental flights in Greenland, northern Ontario and Quebec, and make other preparations along the line.

In the third year he expects regular flying may be started. The air route would begin at Detroit, pass through Ontario and into Quebec, but far inland from the ocean.

Across Baffin Island, over Davis Strait to Greenland in the neighborhood of Helsingborg. The route then would cross the Greenland icecap to Iceland, thence to the Faroes and Shetland Islands, from where a branch may be run to London. Copenhagen is proposed as the terminus.

Pan-American Airways Incorporated and the Trans-American Air Lines Corporation, for whom the judge obtained the permission, plan to begin trial flights next year, he said.

Now at Vancouver

T. H. Loudon, for the last five years general superintendent engineer of the Canadian National Steamships, with headquarters at Vancouver, arrived in Vancouver Tuesday afternoon to take over his new duties as general superintendent for the Canadian National Steamships, with headquarters at Vancouver. Mr. Loudon will have jurisdiction over the operation of the company's Pacific Coast fleet, and will also be in charge of the Prince Rupert drydock.

Mr. Loudon is no stranger to the Pacific Coast as he was assistant superintendent engineer for the company in Vancouver from 1920 to 1927, during which time the Canadian Government Merchant Marine was put into operation. He came frequently to Victoria and is remembered by local shipping men, who will be pleased to welcome him when he visits Victoria. His business will bring him here several times a year.

"I am glad to get back in Vancouver and to my Pacific Coast friends," he stated as he stepped off his train in Vancouver the other day. "It is like coming back home."

Declared to be the first tunnel driven under a river East of Suez, a bore has been completed under the Howrah River, India, to carry high-tension cables from the electric power plant at Calcutta to the Howrah district.

ENGLISH PARTY TO VISIT HERE

Interesting Group of People Coming to British Columbia During Summer

Widespread interest in the resources and commercial opportunities of British Columbia is responsible for the size and diversity of the British business and professional men's party, which will sail from Liverpool Friday on the Canadian Pacific liner Duchess of Bedford, en route to British Columbia.

The tour, under the direction of W. A. McAdam, secretary to the London office of the British Columbia government, is gratifying as a government experiment in making the province better known. Membership of the party has been drawn from all parts of the British Isles. One member is from South Africa.

There are in the party four engineers, a tanner from York, a dentist from London, a wholesale fruit importer from Manchester, a general merchant and an insurance agent from Glasgow and a mining engineer from Johannesburg. Two retired army officers, a retired bank manager and several ladies are members of the party who apparently are making the tour for pleasure. The party will be under the leadership of a sub-committee of the party with a view to settling here.

As the result of a questionnaire sent to members of the entourage, the British Columbia government is making arrangements in the province to have invitations extended to whatever reception or other functions may be given by municipalities and other public bodies during the course of the trip.

Yesterday, Victoria Day, members of the party had an opportunity to become acquainted with each other before sailing date at an Empire Day luncheon extended to them by the British Columbia Agent-General at Hotel Victoria, London.

EMPRESSES WILL USE DOCK FREE OF CHARGE

Ottawa, May 26.—The view that a greater proportion of white seamen should be employed aboard vessels, the times of which recent mail subsidies from the government, was stressed in the Commons yesterday evening by Thomas Reid, Liberal, Westminister. Referring to the fact that a large number of Orientals were employed on vessels, constituting the Pacific service of the Canadian Pacific, Mr. Reid said that the government, in view of the large sums paid, should be in a position to insist on a percentage of white men.

Non. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, replied to Mr. Reid that the crews were largely recruited on the Pacific Coast, on Hongkong, Hongkong was a British colony, and Chinese citizens from there were British subjects and entitled to employment as such. A large proportion of the crews were white, being of Scottish and English descent.

The minister also stated the government was permitting free use of the dockyard at Esquimalt for the docking of these ships. The dockings of the ships was a costly proposition, and the government's permission made it possible for this work to be done at this end on the run.

Mr. Reid agreed the government was to be commended for allowing the use of that drydock.

Commencing in July the four Empresses liners, composing the Pacific fleet of the Canadian Pacific Steamships, will receive their summer overhaul jobs in the Dominion Government drydock at Esquimalt. They will be put in for a day or so for scraping, cleaning and painting. The annual general overhauls will continue to be carried out each winter at Hongkong.

The Empress of Russia will be the first ship placed in the dock, followed by the Empress of Japan, the Empress of Asia and the Empress of Canada. The Empress of Canada was the last Empress liner in the big basin. She was in several weeks three years ago for repairs following her spectacular grounding at Albert Head.

VETERAN SHIP MASTER DIES

Capt. Allen P. Burneson, Well Known at This Port, Passes at Port Townsend

Capt. Allen P. Burneson, veteran northwest shipping master, who was retired from service with the Puget Sound Navigation Company last October, died at the Marine Hospital at Port Townsend yesterday morning. For more than thirty years Capt. Burneson was employed with this company and served on most of the ships of the fleet operating in Northwest ports.

He was here regularly last year in command of the ferry steamer Indianapolis. He knew Victoria harbor almost as well as he did Seattle, and was often here as master of the well-known So Doc.

Since February 17, 1887, he held his master's certificate and was the oldest master in point of service on Puget Sound. In his early days he served with ships in the service of the Inland Navigation Company and the La Conner Trading and Transportation Company. He was born in Gothenburg, Sweden, April 16, 1863, and came from a long line of master mariners. His father owned a fleet of towboats in Gothenburg harbor, but his forefathers were masters of famous old sailing ships that plied to all corners of the globe, often winning long ocean races.

At the age of twenty Burneson shipped as a sailor on the Tillie E. Starbuck, the first iron ship in North American waters. The Starbuck made a voyage to the Columbia River with sails and locomotives for the Oregon Railroad and Navigation Company. He was paid off in Portland, and after spending some time on fishing boats in the river, went to Puget Sound, arriving in Seattle August 1, 1885. A few days later he shipped as a deckboy on the famous side-wheeler Olympian, and ever since that time sailed from Seattle in Puget Sound, British Columbia or Alaska waters.

Until he became ill Capt. Burneson made his home on Mercer Island. He is survived by a widow, Mrs. Thompson, Westernholm, daughter of Capt. A. W. Westernholm, of the Alaska Steamship Company. Funeral arrangements have not yet been announced.

Recent reduction of railway rates in Peru is expected to increase the movement of coal and copper to seaports for export.

MSHAPS KILL THREE FLIERS

One Dead in Cleveland and Two in San Diego; Search For Plane in Washington

Cleveland, Tenn., May 26.—Harry McKillop, young aviator, was killed, and Jack Watson, pilot, was seriously injured late yesterday as their plane crashed three miles east of Cleveland.

San Diego, May 26.—Two naval aviators were killed and a third escaped death by a fortunate accident yesterday when one of the wings of their torpedo land plane snapped, plunging it into the sea three miles off Coronado.

Aviation Pilot, First Class, A. T. Meade of Coronado, and Aviation Pilot, First Class, D. E. Serber of Spokane, Wash., were trapped in the cockpit without time to extricate themselves before the diving plane struck the water. Although the scene was dragged all afternoon the bodies were not recovered.

Chief Aviation Pilot E. W. Hunderle, the third member of the plane's crew, was thrown out of the plane by its violent contortion when its wing broke. He managed to open his parachute about four seconds before he reached the water and was rescued by the crew of a Japanese fishing smack.

Several dozen bathers on the Coronado beach witnessed the accident. They said the plane was diving when at an elevation of about 1,000 feet a wing broke away.

Seattle, May 26.—A posse of North Bend citizens yesterday searched the timbered sides of Kallinien Mountain, between North Bend and Snoqualmie Pass, for the wreckage of a plane reported by several persons to have crashed and burned there about 2 o'clock yesterday morning. The plane, a two-engine biplane, was reported on their arrival in Ellensburg early the day after driving over Snoqualmie Pass.

Several other residents at North Bend and a sheep rancher at an isolated farm near the mountain, reports received here said, all claimed to have seen the plane falling.

RUTH IS DUE IN MORNING

Being Delayed Off Coast By Stiff Head Winds; H. F. Alexander Here Tuesday

Delayed at sea by strong head winds and heavy ground swell, it will be 5:30 o'clock in the morning before the Pacific Steamship Company's liner Ruth Alexander docks at the Rithet piers from San Diego, Los Angeles and San Francisco, W. M. Allan, local agent, was advised this morning by the captain of the ship. She sailed from San Francisco Tuesday afternoon.

For Victoria the Ruth has fifty passengers and forty-five tons of general cargo. Most of the passengers for this port are en route to Vancouver, but will spend several hours in the city, and the early afternoon by the S. Princess Kathleen. Passengers will commence to disembark at 6 o'clock, and the Ruth will proceed to Seattle at 7 o'clock Tuesday evening at 11 o'clock the crack liner H. F. Alexander will commence her summer service, operating between Victoria, Seattle and Callington, and sailing from Victoria every Tuesday evening. She is now being overhauled in the Golden Gate port at Seattle, and will be a member of the C.P.R. fleet.

The S. Dorothy Alexander, which has been in the California service all winter, calling here every second week, will make her first trip to Alaska on Friday, June 3. She is now in the south, and will bring a California party to the land of the midnight sun, calling at Seattle and Alaska on the way north. This season the Dorothy will also call at Victoria on her south-bound voyages. There are eight round-trip voyages to Skagway on the Dorothy's schedule this year.

C.P.R. Conductor Dies on Mainland

Vancouver, May 26.—Stricken suddenly in his home Tuesday evening, John Beattie, aged fifty-one, of West Fifth street, C.P.R. conductor, died before he could be taken to hospital. He had just returned from Bellingham with his family, where they watched the U.S. naval dirigible Akron fly over the city.

Born in Godfrey, Ont., he came to Vancouver twenty-seven years ago, and shortly afterwards entered the service of the C.P.R. He was a member of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen. Besides his wife, he is survived by two sons, Ross and Donald, both at home. Five sisters and one brother also survive.

H.B.C. SHIP TO CARRY ESKIMOS

Discuss Various Routes Over Atlantic; Will Hold Next Meeting in New York

Associated Press
Rome, May 26.—The congress of transoceanic fliers yesterday decided to hold their next meeting in New York. The date was not decided upon.

The midnight session yesterday brought to a close the congress, which has been in session since Sunday, as the first gathering of transoceanic fliers in history.

The whole session was taken up with heated debate over a demand upon governments to leave airports open to transatlantic ships.

The motion was made by Wolfgang von Gronau, the German aviator, and General Iballo, the Italian flier. The French and Spanish delegations were against it. The British, United States, Italian, German and others were for it.

After two hours of sharp verbal conflict, particularly between General Baillou and Dieudonne Coste, the Frenchman, the congress voted to approve the suggestion as a simple recommendation.

Regular airplane traffic over the north Atlantic already is possible on one route and over the south Atlantic on two, the transoceanic fliers of all nations, who were holding a convention here, agreed yesterday.

They set forth their conviction in a formal resolution which declared the transatlantic route was now a fact. The resolution declared that the transatlantic routes considered most favorable are from Bolama, Portuguese Guinea, to Natal, Brazil, and St. Louis, Senegal, to Natal, with the Cape Verde Islands as a further alternative.

"With existing equipment the Greenland route can be flown at the present time, since it provides frequent landing places," the north Atlantic commission reported.

"Since meteorological conditions are not always favorable it will be necessary to establish new weather stations and wireless stations."

The Ireland-to-Newfoundland route seems impracticable with present equipment. This will be done in the future, however, owing to the fact it is the shortest distance from continent to continent and there are good organizations and facilities at both landing points.

"The Azores route offers the same difficulties as the middle route and would lengthen the journey. The southern route via Bermuda is far too long to be considered."

Walton Remains Are Sent Home

Montreal, May 26.—Accompanied by the widow, the remains of the late George A. Walton, general passenger agent, eastern lines, Canadian Pacific Railway, who died on R.M.S. Empress of Australia, May 15, will arrive at Quebec on the R.M.S. Empress of Britain this evening and will be transferred to Montreal for funeral service.

The ceremony will take place at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon. A large number of friends of the deceased from all parts of eastern Canada and the United States have already signified their intention of attending.

The body will be sent to Winnipeg the same evening and a graveside service will be held at Elmwood Cemetery on arrival of Canadian Pacific train No. 3 Monday morning.

End Piles Quick

No Salves—No Cutting
Your itching, bleeding, protruding piles will go when you actually remove the cause—bad blood circulation in the weak, flabby parts—and not one minute before. Salves or cutting can't do this. The internal remedy must be used. HEM-ROID, the best in the world, is a wonderful record right in this city, that Macfarlane and Vancouver Drug Stores say one bottle of HEM-ROID Tablets must end your pile agony or money back. (Adv.)

MAY REARRANGE SAANICH STAFF

Trustees Object to Retention of Positions By Married Teachers

Retention by married women teachers of their positions on the Saanich school staff was discussed with disapproval yesterday evening by the School Board. Trustee W. S. Thorpe brought the matter to attention by referring to a resolution passed last fall which put the 1931 board on record as opposing employment of married women whose husbands were able to support them.

Trustee F. V. Hobbs said certain married women teachers had been notified of the board's views, but had refused to resign. The board had no power to discharge unless for inefficiency or for reorganization purposes.

Trustee Frank Pertridge said this reorganization must follow the outcome of the provincial committee on teachers' salary schedules. Irrespective of the extent of the reorganization, it would give opportunity to settle the matter. "We can give all the teachers notice right now," he suggested.

The board then went into committee and decided to call for full information as to what courses would be open to the board next September in regard to dealing with married women teachers whose husbands are able to support them.

Saanich Pioneers Meet on Friday

Saanich Pioneers' Society will hold their annual reunion and banquet in the Agricultural Hall, Saanich, on Friday evening at 7 o'clock. A number of prominent speakers will attend, also a number of pioneer residents from Victoria, Duncan, Nanaimo and other island points. The banquet will be followed by addresses on pioneer days.

WHIFFEN SPIT DREW CROWDS

Sports and Other Features Made Sooke Celebration Attractive

Special to The Times
Sooke, May 26.—The May 24 celebration was held at Whiffen Spit beach and the adjoining grounds of Sooke Harbor House. The sports programme, directed by C. A. Helgesen and J. MacVicar, started at 2:30 p.m., with land races. During the evening community singing in Sooke Harbor House was led by Mrs. Robert Acreman, followed by a dance. Residents of the surrounding districts, as well as a number of Victorians, joined the Sooke people for the day. Following is a list of the sports winners:

Girls' race, twelve and under—1, Winnie Arden; 2, Doris Thompson.
Boys' race, twelve and under—1, Alfred Shambrook; 2, Harry Page; 3, Richard Arden.
Girls over twelve—1, Jean Thornber; 2, Margaret Reay; 3, Winnie Arden.

BANKNOTES AND FRENCH
Ottawa, May 26.—(Canadian Press)—Canadian coins are not only bilingual, but they carry also a third language—a dead one—Latin. Hon. E. W. Rhodes, Minister of Finance, told the Commons yesterday evening. Whether it was desirable or not to alter the character of the Dominion notes was a matter that could be considered if, as and when new designs were made, he added. The minister's brief comment developed out of a request by Oscar L. Boulanger, Liberal, Beloeil, Que., advanced during consideration of an appropriation for the Mint, that Dominion notes and coins bear both the official languages of Canada.

Party Entertained At Ganges Dance
Ganges, May 26.—H. W. Bullock was host at a delightful dance when he entertained 125 guests at Harbor House on Monday evening. The dance was preceded by a dinner given by him in honor of Mrs. S. F. Tolmie, who through illness, was unfortunately prevented, with her daughter, Mrs. Andrews, from attending.

The dinner table was artistically decorated with pink and red ranunculus and violas, the same flowers being chiefly used throughout the rooms and on the supper table.

Those present at dinner were: Rev. C. H. Popham and Mrs. Popham, Captain and Mrs. M. F. Macintosh, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. E. Walter, Major and Mrs. F. C. Turner, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. WEST SHOWS RIGHT SPIRIT

A. E. Pequegnat, Assistant General Manager of Mutual Life, Confers With Agents

Praising the spirit of the Canadian west, which he claims is setting a splendid example for the east, A. E. Pequegnat of Waterloo, Ont., assistant general manager of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of Canada, was in Victoria yesterday conferring with Fred McGregor, general agent for the company on Vancouver Island.

Mr. Pequegnat is accompanied by Dr. J. M. Livingstone, chief medical director, and W. Carlisle, superintendent of agencies.

At the conference held yesterday with the local officials, Mr. Pequegnat spoke of the company's investments, which, he stated, despite the abnormal conditions, held a very high position.

Dr. Livingstone gave a resume of the work of the underwriters' committee, illustrating his points with charts. Mr. Carlisle gave a general sketch of agency work.

Mr. Pequegnat remarked upon the wonderful optimism in the western provinces. The prairie farmers were looking for a good crop this year.

The Mutual officials have been holding conference with company agents on the Coast, having come here from Vancouver.

Provincial Cabinet Seeks Retaliation
The provincial cabinet yesterday wired Premier Tolmie to Ottawa asking him to make representations to the federal authorities in connection with the proposed increased tariff against copper and lumber by the United States Senate.

Hon. R. H. Pooley, acting premier, stated that this province would be seriously affected if the proposed legislation was enacted, and that the cabinet was unanimous Premier Tolmie should invite the federal government to consider retaliatory measures, pointing out that Canada imports millions of dollars' worth of citrus fruits yearly from the United States, which can be supplied from within the Empire.

FUNDS ARE VOTED FOR CONFERENCE
Ottawa, May 26.—Premier Bennett stated in the Commons yesterday evening that notice had been sent to all the premiers of the provinces asking them for any suggestions they might desire to make to the government with respect to the Imperial Economic Conference. All the agricultural organizations, as well as the Manufacturers' Associations, had also been asked for suggestions.

The Prime Minister made this statement during consideration of a vote for expenses in connection with the conference, amounting to $250,000. The appropriation was approved by the House.

Mrs. Manley of Cobble Hill is the guest of her sister, Mrs. P. Wolfe, Highland district.

Mrs. Fred Pitt and infant daughter have returned from the Royal Jubilee Hospital, and are staying with Mr. and Mrs. E. Goucher, Island Highway.

Chemainus

Chemainus, May 26.—The Cosmo-politans were seen to advantage in a delightful play, "Hello Europe," recently produced in Chemainus picture house. Those taking part were Leila Aiken, Lorna Campbell, Rose Plant, Grace Murray, Marguerite Dyke, A. E. Craig, E. O. Robathan, J. Sandland, A. D. Aiken, H. Robinson and J. C. Adam.

Richmond Ross, Shawigan Lake, spent May 24 with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Ross.

Mr. and Mrs. James Cowans were recent visitors to Victoria and Nanaimo.

Your Home Needs Paint Protection... Painters Need Work... So Why Not

Do Outside Painting Now

It is poor economy to let your house deteriorate in value for lack of paint. Now is the ideal time to do outside painting and you'll find painters ready to meet you in the matter of price so that they can keep their men steadily employed.

No better quality Paint is made anywhere than Bapco Pure Paint, and it is made right here in Victoria. Throughout Western Canada "Bapco Pure" is recognized as a standard of paint perfection. Prices (ordinary colors):

Gallons $4.95
Half gallons $2.25
Quarts $1.40

"Ironite" Liquid Paint

If your house does not require a complete repainting, do the trim around the doors and windows, etc., with "Ironite." The quality is dependable, the price reasonable.

Gallons $3.50
Half gallons $1.95
